Senate Votes to Retain Telephone, Telegraph Taxes

Also Refuses to End Levies On Train, Bus, Planes Fares

Washington—AP—The senate today voted to keep the 10 per cent federal levy on local telephone and telegraph service and passenger fares for another year, rejecting a $752 million tax cut.

First the senate by a 54-30 tally rejected a move to let the telephone and telegraph levies expire June 30.

Next it turned down by a 55-29 vote a recommendation that the tax on train, bus and plane fares be allowed to go off at the same time.

The senate finance committee had proposed that both tax cuts be made. President Eisenhower had opposed the cuts and the house rejected them in passing the tax extension-debt ceiling bill.

The senate voted last year for immediate repeal of both the communications and travel taxes. In the conference with the house, the effective date of both provisions was changed to July 1, 1960, and it was decided to cut the travel excise only in half.

But a different climate prevailed this time. Opponents of any tax cut argued that a worsening international situation made it imperative to keep intact all of the treasury's revenue sources.

Many Democrats also feared their party would be accused of fiscal irresponsibility if they voted for tax reductions after putting through many spending increases.

President Eisenhower had urged that the telephone and travel taxes be extended another year at the full 10 per cent rate, and the house accepted this.

The bill which the senate is considering would extend $4 billion worth of corporation income and excise levies to July 1, 1961, and would raise the national debt ceiling $8 billion a year.

Earlier Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) voiced "grave doubts" of the wisdom of pending senate amendments to cut taxes by $750 million.

New Fight in Japan Against Security Pact

Some Leaders of Kishi's Party Advocate Delay

BY DAY INOSHITA

Tokyo—AP—Some leaders of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's conservative party today joined the leftists in a new fight to postpone the exchange of documents sealing Japan's new security pact with the United States.

The move put new pressures on the wary 64-year-old prime minister, who has been battling for weeks to maintain Japan's military links with America.

Kishi's ruling liberal democrats struck back early today with quick approval in parliament's upper house of legislation to adjust present Japanese laws to conform with provisions in the new treaty.

The legislation caught the socialist opposition by surprise. None was present when the voting took place. The socialists and other opposition groups have been boycotting parliament, but the socialists had promised to wage a new fight against the legislation.

The ratification documents, bearing the signatures of Kishi and Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama, were submitted to Emperor Hirohito. The emperor is expected to attest them tomorrow or Wednesday.

Demonstrations persisted.

ROK Reform Government's Prime Minister Pledges Wise Use of U. S. Funds

BY JOHN SCALI

Seoul—AP—President Eisenhower left South Korea for Honolulu, completing a Far Eastern tour on which he was cheered by millions of Asians but forced to by-pass Japan because of left-wing rioting there. He arrives shortly after noon in Honolulu.

Eisenhower left with a pledge from South Korea's reform government to guard against wasting the hundreds of millions of dollars in aid the United States pours in each year.

"I pledge that we will do everything possible to insure that American aid funds are wisely, efficiently and honestly used for the benefit of all of the Korean people," Prime Minister Huh Chung declared in his parting words to Eisenhower at Seoul International airport.

Wildly cheered by one million Koreans who blocked his motorcade Sunday and by hundreds of thousands more on Monday, Eisenhower on departure said it was a "memorable experience" to see "so many Korean people along the routes of travel I have followed."

Millions Cheer Him
In all, nearly three million Filipinos, Chinese nationalists on Formosa, Okinawans and Koreans welcomed the first American president to tour the Orient while in office. A 3-day visit to Japan was called off when the Japanese government said it could not fully guarantee Eisenhower's safety because of violent left-wing rioting in Tokyo.

The only anti-American demonstrations Eisenhower actually saw was on Okinawa, where 1,500 pro-Japanese chanted "go home" and snake-danced.

Eisenhower urged leaders of the new South Korean government to make the most of their opportunity to give the communist-threatened land he said "prompt and judicious fulfillment of the recently expressed wishes of the Korean people is a momentous challenge."

Before leaving Korea Eisenhower flew to the headquarters of the U. S. military command in Japan.

Nichols Driver Crash Victim

Eugene Hillsberg Killed Saturday; 8th County Fatality

Eugene W. Hillsberg, 27, Nichols, a disabled war veteran and the father of five children, ranging in age from 4 months to 7 years, was killed about 10 p.m. Saturday when his car crashed into an embankment off Highway 156 less than two miles west of Nichols.

He is the eighth person to die in a traffic accident in Outagamie county this year and is one of six persons killed in weekend highway crashes over the state.

Dead at Hospital
Coroner Bernard Kemps said Hillsberg died of a skull fracture. He was dead on arrival at Memorial hospital where he was taken in a Burdick of Black Creek ambulance. No inquest will be held, the coroner said.

County Patrolman John Carpenter and Sgt. George Elise of the county police said Hillsberg was driving west out of Nichols when his car failed to make a curve. The automobile went out of control, skidded into a ditch and struck the embankment.

TV 'Political Payola' Rapped

Proxmire Assails Favored Treatment For New York Firm

Washington—AP—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) today assailed what he called "political payola" and favored treatment to a television firm in which five members of congress hold a minority stock interest.

Proxmire told the senate "it has just been revealed" that the federal communications commission has established tentatively a precedent that television firms in which congressmen own stock may hold an advantageous position over rival applicants for broadcasting licenses.

He said the case involved the tentative award of a broadcasting license to the Capital Cities Television corporation, on Channel 10 from Albany, N. Y.

"Edge" for Applicant
The New York Herald Tribune carried an article on the subject Sunday. It said a hearing examiner in the case had held that the fact that five members of the house of representatives own stock in Capital Cities gave this company "an edge" over a rival applicant in the matter of "civic participation."

Civic participation is one of the yardsticks used by the federal communications commission in deciding contested cases. The hearing examiner remarked that to be elected to congress denotes "an ability to discern and be responsive to the interests of the people" of a community.

FCC records show that the five representatives own about 6 per cent of the stock.

The congressmen named by the Herald Tribune are Rep. Deah P. Taylor (R-N.Y.), former Republican national committeeman; Rep. Leo W. O'Brien (D-N.Y.), a member of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, which drafts legislation affecting the FCC; Rep. Eugene J. Keogh (D-N.Y.), Rep. James J. Delaney (D-N.Y.) and Rep. Peter W. Rodino (D-N.J.).

Madison Doubles Area in 10 Years

Successful Annexation Plan Called Envy of Urban Centers

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison—This capital city may become the envy of other growing urban centers in Wisconsin for success in accommodating its space to population requirements.

Madison today claims a population of more than 130,000, and is the largest community in a three state area, not including the metropolitan centers of Milwaukee, Chicago and Minneapolis-St. Paul. The city is widely known as an attractive place to live and its industries and governmental enterprises are expanding.

Offer From Rebels

Algerian Premier Set For Paris Discussions

Paris—AP—The Algerian rebel government-in-exile offered today to send Premier Ferhat Abbas to Paris to discuss the Algerian revolt with the French government.

The French government quickly agreed to receive Abbas, but official sources said once more any discussion would "concern only a cease-fire, the disposition of weapons and the fate of the fighters."

Only after a cease-fire, they said, could arrangements be discussed for a referendum on Algeria's future.

The rebel communique offering to send Abbas was in response to President Charles de Gaulle's radio address June 14. The communique said an emissary would be sent to Paris to arrange Abbas' trip.

Guarantees Safety
De Gaulle has promised the rebels personal safety while in France and the right to leave France if negotiations break down.

A French source said de Gaulle probably will meet personally with Abbas, although there was no specific pledge. De Gaulle has said in the past that a referendum on Algeria's future will be held within four years after the fighting ends.

When and by what means the first rebel envoy would come to Paris remained to be determined.

By the account of French informants, the French army is winning steadily in clashes with Algerian rebel field

Rockefeller to Make GOP Tour

Rochester, N.Y.—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he would conduct a nationwide tour in behalf of the Republican party candidates in the November election.

The Republican governor did not immediately set a date for the tour.

He told a news conference he would campaign "not only for the national candidates but for senatorial and congressional candidates."

Blueprint for Platform

Republican Group Replies to Ike's Critics, Lauds Policies

Washington—AP—A GOP congressional study group has answered administration criticism of the handling of the U2 spy-flight over Russia.

The report is the work of 15 members of the Republican policy committee—a group within the house of representatives headed by Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan—and several outside experts, including key advisers to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and White House aides.

The study cites what it calls the "proven success" of the Eisenhower administration's policies and urges their continuation. However, it contains several recommendations and an implied criticism of the handling of the U2 spy-flight over Russia.

Reps. John W. Byrnes and Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin are members of the committee.

Nixon, the party's probable nominee for president, worked closely with the group and has endorsed the report. It was issued over the weekend.

At several points, the report clashes with views expressed by Gov. Nelson. A Rockefeller, Nixon's potential rival for the GOP nomination.

The report stresses the "vast superiority" of America's strength, compared to Rockefeller's talk of Russia's increased military power and a call for greater defense spending.

The report also differs with Rockefeller's view that the rate of national economic growth should be speeded up and the federal government's responsibility for public welfare expanded.

The study argues that present economic policies provide an adequate growth rate. It says these, coupled with reduced federal spending and decentralization of government, would lead to an accelerated rate.

Spending and the strength of this nation's armed power are defended on the ground war has been deterred since 1953 and that communist expansion has been halted since 1954.

Farmers' Vote Has Hopefuls' Attention

Kennedy, Symington, Nixon Stump North, South Dakota And Air Programs, Defense

Washington — The farmer, his problems, and his vote continued to hold the attention today of the men who want to be president.

In a busy weekend, two Democrats and one Republican toured the farmlands of North and South Dakota. The Republican, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, stayed on today and promised to discuss his farm program.

A third Democratic candidate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, flew to the farm states of Iowa and Nebraska Sunday, seeking support at the Democratic national convention.

Urges Voters

The Democratic candidates in the Dakotas were Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri.

They urged North Dakotans to vote for Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick in the special senate election June 28. Nixon campaigned for Republican Gov. John E. Davis.

All three presidential candidates, however, did not miss an opportunity to outline their own views on national issues. Defense and agriculture were the big topics. In Sioux

Long Strike at Bethlehem Shipyards Ends

Union, Company Officials to Meet On Final Details

New York — The long, costly—and often bitter—Bethlehem Steel company shipyard strike has apparently been settled.

The federal mediation service announced a tentative agreement Sunday in Washington after an overnight bargaining session.

Representatives of the company and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers met here today to settle any remaining differences.

Nuclear Ships

Details of the settlement, which needs approval by the union membership, were not announced. But the Baltimore Sun said it includes a 25-cent hourly wage increase spread over three years.

A Bethlehem spokesman said the two Baltimore area shipyards would be open today for strikers to return to work. But a union official said picket lines will remain until the contract is finally approved.

The 21-week-old strike of 17,000 workers closed eight Bethlehem yards along the east coast, including the Quincy, Mass., facility, which had been working on the nuclear cruiser Long Beach and the nuclear destroyer Bainbridge.

Long Strike

The strike, which halted work on an estimated half-billion dollars' worth of navy shipping, was marked by charges, countercharges and a lawsuit. Some picket violence occurred in the early stages of the dispute.

The union walked out last January after negotiations for a new contract under way seven months, bogged down. A three-year work contract had expired last July 31, but workers agreed to stay on the job during negotiations.

The union sought pay increases, fringe benefits, better work rules and job classifications. Under the old pact first class mechanics received $2.80 an hour, including a 17-cent cost-of-living grant. The men averaged about $100 a week in take-home pay, the company said.

2 Boys Murder Sisters, Planned To Kill Parents

Auckland, New Zealand — A court was told in Auckland today that two brothers, 16 and 12 years old, murdered their two sisters and planned to kill their parents because they were treated harshly and made to work while other children played.

The prosecution said the relations with Israel despite brothers — Robert Edward annoyance over the Eichmann Bridge, 16, and Trevor John case.

Bridge, 12—died away with their sisters because of the effect of the life as they would have on the orphans would have on the girls.

Robert was accused of going to the bedroom of his 6-year-old sister Carolyn and shooting her with a rifle as she said "amen" at the end of her evening prayer.

The brothers pleaded not guilty to murdering Carolyn and 2-year-old Valerie Juliet Bridge at their parents' home near Wakuu, 30 miles south of Auckland, on April 11.

Prosecutor D. E. Speight said the boys' father and mother had gone out, leaving Robert in charge of the household. He charged the boys were lying in wait, armed with a shotgun and a rifle, for their parents to return, but the parents entered a different door.

Both boys were alleged to have complained about their father's harshness and bad temper and said he made them work long hours. The prosecution said they decided to kill their parents and decided it would be best to kill the girls first to save them

Father Glad Doctors Tried Kidney Operation

First Such Transplant to Son Fruitless; Boy Dies 10 Days After Attempt; Dad Okay

Boston — A mourning father, who gave up one of his kidneys in a fruitless attempt to save the life of his 15-year-old son, says simply: "I'm glad we tried."

Young Robert Reck died on Father's day. Ten days earlier, surgeons at Peter Bent Brigham hospital removed a kidney from his father, Virgil N. Reck, and transplanted it to Robert.

The boy was seriously ill with a kidney ailment which doctors said should have eventually proven fatal.

Medical Precedent

"I know everything humanly possible was done by the hospital staff to save Bobby's life," said Reck, a sergeant on the Dayton, Ohio, police force.

A successful father-to-son kidney transplant would have established a medical precedent. Doctors at the hospital have performed numerous successful kidney transplant operations, most of them involving identical twins and a few involving non-identical twins.

But never before had a kidney been transplanted from the body of a father to that of his son.

Time Donated

Two teams of 10 doctors each worked for hours on the operation, taking a healthy kidney from the father and transferring it to the son to replace one of his diseased kidneys.

Sgt. Reck recovered from the operation. But the boy lingered in serious condition for 10 days, and the hospital said after his death that the kidney "failed to establish adequate circulation."

A hospital spokesman said the new kidney did not prevent progression of the boy's original ailment.

Dr. F. Lloyd Mussells, hospital director, said hospital expenses not covered by insurance have been underwritten by the Avalon foundation of New York in a grant for the study of kidney transplants. The doctors who cared simply for the father and son donated their services.

Congressman Kills Himself

Rep. D. H. Elliott Of Pennsylvania Found Near Auto

Chambersburg, Pa. — Rep. Douglas H. Elliott (R-Pa.), 39, committed suicide Sunday by carbon monoxide poisoning.

He was found near his car a few yards from his summer cabin bordering a lake near his south central Pennsylvania community. A deer skin was draped over his head and the end of the exhaust pipe.

State police said they found a single-edge razor blade and two 30-30 rifle bullets on Elliott's body. He had no money in his wallet, officers said.

Coroner John P. Mages ruled the congressman died of "carbon monoxide poisoning self-administered." Neither he nor friends and associates could give any insight as to why he took his own life.

Plantings Along Road Put Halt to Erosion

Ames, Iowa — Harold Dolling, landscape engineer for the Iowa Highway commission, estimates it costs between $8,000 and $10,000 a mile to landscape the interstate highway system in the state.

"But the plantings are absolutely essential to control erosion and protect the roads," he says. "Beauty is simply a pleasant by-product."

Argentina Will Send Eichmann Back to Israel

Agreement Sure if Israelis Return Him To South America

Milan, Italy — Argentina's President Arturo Frondizi says his government plans to send Adolf Eichmann back to Israel if the Israelis return the ex-Gestapo official to Argentina.

Frondizi, on a state visit to Italy, told a group of Argentine newsmen Sunday extradition would be granted if conditions of international law were met. He denied he had ever said Eichmann would be extradited to West Germany if handed back by Israel.

Frondizi, who is on an 8-nation European tour, said he is ready to meet Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion any place. He stressed that his government keeps "very good relations with Israel" despite brothers — Robert Edward annoyance over the Eichmann Bridge, 16, and Trevor John case.

Ben-Gurion also is in Europe and there has been speculation he and Frondizi would meet this week in Belgium or France. But in Jerusalem the Israel cabinet Sunday reiterated its decision that Eichmann would not be returned to Argentina.

In Tel Aviv, Israel, Eichmann's eldest son Klaus said he would never abandon him. Earlier reports said Klaus had not known his father's true identity until he was captured in Argentina by Israel agents.

In a letter from Buenos Aires, Klaus wrote: "I cannot acquiesce in the accusations against you and even if they should prove correct you will remain my father and I your eldest son and I will never abandon you."

Adolf Eichmann was seized in Buenos Aires last month and is being held here to stand trial for major responsibility in the deaths of millions of Jews in World War II.

from what might result. So Robert shot both girls, the prosecution alleges, with the full knowledge and approval of his younger brother.

30 Persons Back After 2-Week Stay In Defense Shelter

Research Officials Pleased With Results Of Human Reactions in Bomb Conditions

Pittsburgh — Thirty men, women and children are back in the test with his wife and home after a 2-week stay in a 12 by 20-foot bomb shelter.

The first thing 10-year-old Paul Marion, Jr., said as he left the shelter was: "Where's my daddy?" Mrs. Marion, who had Paul, Jr., and a daughter, Kathleen, with her said: "The first few days the children were under strain. Both of mine were homesick. Some nights they had tears in their eyes. But finally they got adjusted."

No Papers

The group had no newspapers, television or radios with them. Games and cards offered the only recreation.

Test Reaction

The experiment was designed to test, psychologically and sociologically, human reaction to shelter conditions for the office of civil defense mobilization.

Mrs. Laura Ellis, 72, oldest of the volunteers, was conducting Sunday school services when the group was told to leave. Asked why she volunteered, the gray-haired grandmother replied: "I still have a lot of curiosity and I figure I might as well know what's going on."

Marcia Malinowski, 7, the youngest of the group, said: "I just missed playing outside."

Charlie Gives Inside Information On Madame Mosquito's Brood

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

You might as well learn something about the mosquito; you'll be getting intimately acquainted with them this summer. Experts say the summer of 1960 and 1961 will see the development of a bumper crop of the critters.

As in all creatures, the female mosquito is deadlier than the male. He — innocent fellow — minds his own business, the production of baby mosquitoes. The female does the spade-work, and she can do it severely enough to kill.

The female mosquitoes have preferences. If you are a fat, dirty man, you can be sure that SOMEBODY loves you—lady mosquitoes.

House She likes women next best, and then children. Last on the list of human goodies is a child under 2 years. Put white clothing on the tot and his chances of being mosquito food are less. Nevertheless, Madame Mosquito will try her sharp probe on anything, including a bowling ball.

Rains Help Growth

The heavy, seemingly everlasting spring rains this year are providing ample place for the development of the mosquito. Water is required in one stage of its life cycle, but a rusty tin can with a little water is just as good as the prettiest pond.

Mother mosquito lays her eggs in water. When they hatch, they become "wigglers." These are the larvae that move spasmodically in jerky motions. In this stage the mosquito is best controlled. When the wriggler wants to breathe it surfaces and pushes its tail into the air. If oil has been sprayed over the surface of the water, the larva cannot project its tail and dies by drowning.

When DDT made its appearance, many believed it spelled doom. But, alas,

Some persons do not, however, suffer from mosquito attacks. This writer is one of those lucky ones and has had less than a dozen bites in his lifetime. But I can recall some camping trips where the mosquitoes were so numerous their impact was psychological and their hum reached a frightening crescendo. There was nothing to do but run for the tent.

The familiar, itchy, welt raised by a mosquito "bite" is caused by the mosquito's method. Her proboscis—the nose—is the stinger she sinks into the flesh. The nose is divided into two separate channels: through one a salty solution flows into the blood to keep it from coagulating and the other channel is used to withdraw blood. The salty solution creates the welt.

Rules to Follow

There are some ways to achieve a degree of protection. Your own experience with repellents is the best bet. Some, apparently, are effective with some people; others are not.

For general purposes, here are some rules:

1. Keep clean—and thin.
2. Wear white clothing.
3. Use the repellent of your choice.
4. Try not to perspire.

Kefauver Stops Fistfight While on Campaign Tour

Brownsville, Tenn. —(AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) came to this west Tennessee town Tuesday on a routine handshaking trip in his campaign for reelection. But he wound up halting a fight between a deputy sheriff and a civil rights commission agent in the courthouse.

Deputy Sheriff George Sullivan and Ward E. Bonnell, one of two field representatives sent here by the commission to observe voter registration, became embroiled in a heated argument.

The argument started over Sullivan's statement that Bonnell said Kefauver sent him here. Bonnell denied making such a statement. One word led to another and witnesses said the deputy sheriff cut loose with a right to Bonnell's jaw.

Kefauver, a onetime

one day help scientist, find the solution to eliminate the mosquito. The male mosquito is attracted to a humming sound and likes a just tapped tuning fork. A Philadelphia research laboratory is trying to figure out how this peculiar attraction can be used to rid the world of one of its peskiest problems—lady mosquitoes.

Ike Returns to Hawaii After He Visits Korea

of the 6th South Korean army corps only 13 miles south of the armistice line to place a wreath on the black stone monument to the unknown dead of the Korean war and review troops of the United States, South Korea, Britain, Turkey, Thailand and Ethiopia guarding the frontier against a renewal of the Korean war.

Speaking only five days before the tenth anniversary of the start of the war, the president paid tribute to the 16 U.N. members who fought the communists in the Korean war and "whose freedom is dearer to them than life."

He also paid special tribute to South Korea's armed forces, saying they displayed "the utmost of self-sacrifice."

Communique issued Some 10,000 persons, including Korean villagers in colorful country dress, gave the president an ovation.

Eisenhower and Huh Chung agreed in a joint communique that every effort must be made to unify Korea peacefully in accordance with the U.N. principle of free elections in the communist-controlled north.

The two leaders declared that South Korea is entitled to membership in the United Nations and that its membership would strengthen the U.N.

Backing up Huh Chung's pledge against waste of U. S. aid, the communique said American economic assistance should continue until Korea can stand on her feet.

En route to Honolulu, the president's big Boeing 707-type jet refueled at Wake Island. A previously planned refueling stop at Yokota air base in Japan was canceled after the Japan trip itself was called off.

An accompanying jet carrying some 70 press representatives will refuel at Yokota, before flying on to Hawaii.

On departure, Eisenhower still looked fresh despite a full day of conferences, motorcades, speeches and 60 miles of helicopter flying to review U.N. troops still guarding the 1953 armistice.

A million friendly Koreans turned out yesterday to give the president a welcome so frenzied that a fender of his bubble-top limousine was dented. Security agents ordered a detour around the densest crowds to prevent Eisenhower's being mobbed by admirers.

It was a sharp contrast to the heckling from 1,500 screaming, snake-dancing, pro-Japanese demonstrators who competed with an otherwise friendly throng of 150,000 Okinawans during the president's brief stopover on the U. S. base island earlier yesterday.

The Korean crowds again today came perilously close to bursting through lines of police and soldiers standing several deep at the curbs along the president's route.

Speaks to Legislators The throngs angrily objected to being asked to sit down on the concrete—a precaution to keep them from moving forward. They surged into the streets repeatedly until police reinforcements used rifle butts to control the pushing, shoving crowd.

When Eisenhower passed, shrill cheers erupted and the spectators rose to their feet and threatened again to break through.

Eisenhower, in what amounted to a lecture, told South Korea's lameduck legislators they must not only talk democracy but buttress it with a free press, public education and a fairly elected national assembly.

The 233-man chamber has

agreed to dissolve itself next month just before new nationwide elections naming a new slate of legislators.

Keep Faith, Ike Urges "Yours is a great trust,"

Eisenhower said, "You and those new members who will soon be gathering here in the next assembly have the opportunity and heavy responsibility to show that human freedom and advancement of the people's welfare thrive even in the shadow of communist aggression."

Earlier, Eisenhower urged restless Korean students, who sparked the April revolt, to keep faith with democracy. He asked one of the student leaders, 21-year-old Lee Tae-sup, to breakfast with him along with seven other Korean leaders.

Eisenhower chatted extensively with Lee about the students' dedication to democracy. He also talked at length with one of Rhee's longtime foes, former Vice President John M. Chang.

Chang, a leading prospect for the prime minister's job after the election, handed Eisenhower a sealed envelope giving his views on how to move South Korea toward real democracy. Details were not made public.

Eisenhower promised the legislators the United States would stand squarely beside South Korea against any new red aggression and would continue to aid in economic development.

Mayor Back After Boat Stops in Lake

Port Washington—(AP)—Mayor Paul T. Schmit, 33, and his disabled cabin cruiser—missing on Lake Michigan since Friday—were found by the Coast Guard Sunday and towed ashore.

A plane from Traverse City, Mich., spotted the boat and reported that two persons were aboard. The Coast Guard arrived at the scene after several other boats from Port Washington sped to Schmit's craft.

When the 19-foot cruiser arrived under tow, Schmit, married and the father of three children, was the only person aboard. The Ozaukee county sheriff's office said Schmit's sister-in-law, Mrs. Joan Tesker Horn, 29, of Fredonia, was on the boat with him.

Schmit told authorities he took the boat out Friday night and was about 10 miles off shore when the engine began acting up, then ran out of gas. Schmit's boat had been the object of a wide search since Saturday.

State Conducting Survey of Boaters And Conditions

Madison —(AP)—The state department of resource development today mailed questionnaires to 10,000 Wisconsin boat owners asking suggestions for improving boating facilities.

Boaters will be asked in which counties more public access to lakes and streams is needed and where existing facilities should be improved.

The questionnaires follow a random study made by the department last month. It indicated nearly all of the state's boat owners use inland waters, that two-thirds of them keep their crafts moored in or near the water and that the heaviest demand for lake facility improvements is centered in the southeastern section of the state.

Boat owners with registration numbers ending in "6" were selected for the current study.

Boards, one of the founders, was president for 30 years. The current president is Mrs. Long John Williams, who succeeded her husband in the job when he died in 1957.

Says People Play While World Falls

Washington —(AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham opened an 8-day crusade here with the admonition that "Americans are fiddling and playing while the world crumbles about them."

A crowd of about 20,000 persons gathered in Griffith stadium yesterday for the afternoon opening of the crusade. The stadium has a capacity of about 32,000.

About 400 came forward as "inquirers." Standing back of home plate in the home of the Washington senators baseball team, they filled out cards and were put in charge of complete their commitment as Christians.

Graham called the present era an age of revolt, fear, immorality and intellectual uncertainty.

He said "humanity has its back against the wall. Into this terrible spiritual and moral vacuum has moved communism with a program, a plan and a way of life. Millions in desperation have reached for it, only to be disillusioned."

"They find that they have been led down another philosophical blind alley to a political dead end where there sits waiting —'big brother.' So the whole world is frantically searching for an answer before we blow ourselves into oblivion."

"Philosophers, scientists, diplomats, political leaders and intellectuals are all beginning to say with one voice: 'We need God.'"

Graham said "We in America are becoming a nation of towering intellects, atlas-like bodies, and shriveled souls."

Jack Olson to Support Nixon

Wisconsin Dells —(AP)— Jack Olson will become chairman of the Wisconsin Volunteers for Richard Nixon for President, instead of seeking the Republican nomination for governor.

Olson, a Wisconsin Dells resort owner, announced his decision Saturday night.

Earlier this year, he conducted an intensive campaign but last month he decided not to seek the endorsement of the state Republican party organization.

Delegates to the GOP state convention endorsed Philip Kuehn of Whitefish Bay for governor. There are no other announced candidates for the Republican nomination.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon will also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulk and moisture may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs, cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAD gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

Nixon's Economic Views Different Than Eisenhower's

Vice President Interviewed as Rockefeller Issued His Demands

BY E. W. DABBY
Financial Editor, Chicago Sun-Times

While Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was blasting Richard M. Nixon for failing to make his views known, I was sitting in the Vice President's historic red and gold office across the hall from the U. S. Senate chamber.

Nixon knew, of course, that Rockefeller had breakfasted that morning with President Eisenhower at the White House.

But neither Nixon nor I knew that Rockefeller, after flying back to New York, had issued a public demand that Nixon declare himself in detail on the issues of the campaign.

Weeks before I had written a story noting that the single most powerful force affecting the nation's economy — jobs, wages, pocketbooks — was the economic policy of the federal government.

Interviews Nixon

It was a short jump from there to another thought:

That the economic beliefs of the men who are contending for the presidential nominations are more important to the nation's future prosperity than the latest stock market quotations or the current reports on the level of steel production.

So I thought I'd try to find out what these men think.

After numerous telephone calls and letters I ended up in the vice president's office on a day when, by coincidence, his views became the subject of front page headlines and national debate.

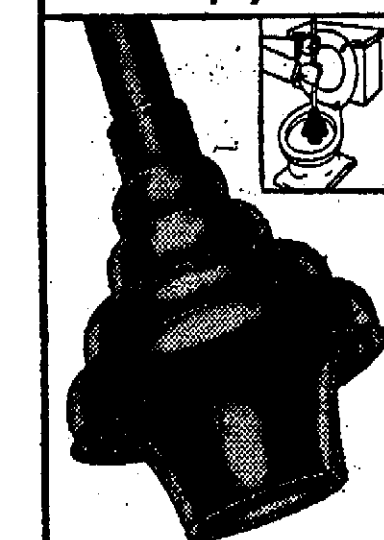

Different Viewpoint

Out of the interview emerged a viewpoint somewhat apart from that of President Eisenhower's.

It was plain that Richard Nixon, should the occasion demand, would not hesitate to veer away from that safe center of the road where the president is most comfortable.

It, for the practical pur-

Markets for American Cheese Steady This Week

Madison — The State Department of Agriculture reported today that Wisconsin primary American cheese markets were steady last week. Demand was fair to good and open market trading was light. Supplies were generally adequate with the possible exception of June single daisies. U. S. cheese production was estimated at 27,000,000 pounds, one per cent more than in the corresponding week a year ago. Production had been lower for four consecutive weeks. Swiss cheese prices were unchanged at Wisconsin primary and terminal markets. Demand was described as fair to good.

Soviet Defense Minister Shows Little Knowledge of U. S. Affairs

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — When Nikita Khrushchev did his talking in Paris, two men were always present. One was Andrei Gromyko, who has lived in the United States for many years as the Soviet delegate to the United Nations. The other was the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, a new face to most of us. Malinovsky did not speak, but often Khrushchev whispered in his ear.

In their book, "Ask Me Anything," William Randolph Hearst, Jr., Bob Coniff and Frank Coniff give excellent character sketches of these Russian personalities who are new to us. They had an exceptional opportunity to study them and without the pretentiousness of psychologists, they report what they saw and heard. Thus they describe Malinovsky:

"Malinovsky met us at his office. He was a man whose thick gray hair was combed straight back from his bulldog face without a parting. His eyebrows were black and expressive. He gave each of us a bone-crushing handshake. Malinovsky then took his place at the head of the familiar conference table and indicated he was ready."

Military Paintings
"He wore nine rows of ribbons beneath the dangling gold star of the order of Lenin. The single marshal's star on each thickset shoulder was the size of a sheriff's badge. A painting of Lenin reading 'Pravda' looked down from some arms in much the same proportions as America provided arms for Syngman Rhee. But remember this: We did not fight there. No Red army troops or pilots were there. But you were there."

"But you should have been there, too, as a member of the UN," Hearst insisted.

"We aided the North Koreans because they were fighting for their independence and liberty," Malinovsky replied stonily.

"We use the same words in our country about southern Korea," Hearst said, "but they mean something totally different."

What is so very interesting in these conversations, and there were many more, is that Malinovsky spoke not as a soldier but as a communist.

The following Malinovsky statement ought to be noted carefully:

"... Many American generals are very often sorry that they have no ideal to plant in the heart of the American soldier, so he will be willing to die for that ideal. You are jealous of us for this. The communist soldier, the red army soldier, has such an ideal in his heart. He has it because he considers the ideal of the commander his own ideal."

(Copyright, 1960)

These writers point out how aggressive Malinovsky's conversation was with them but he showed an extraordinary ignorance of the United States. The following colloquy shows how little he understands:

"Western military men consider political influence upon their affairs hampers them," Coniff said. "Why isn't the same feeling not valid in the case of the red army?"

"Republican Control"

"Malinovsky seemed surprised. 'The Communist party is the ruling party of the U. S. S. R. and it influences all fields,'" he said, spelling it out. "I would say it would be the same thing as the control your Republican party has over your military at present."

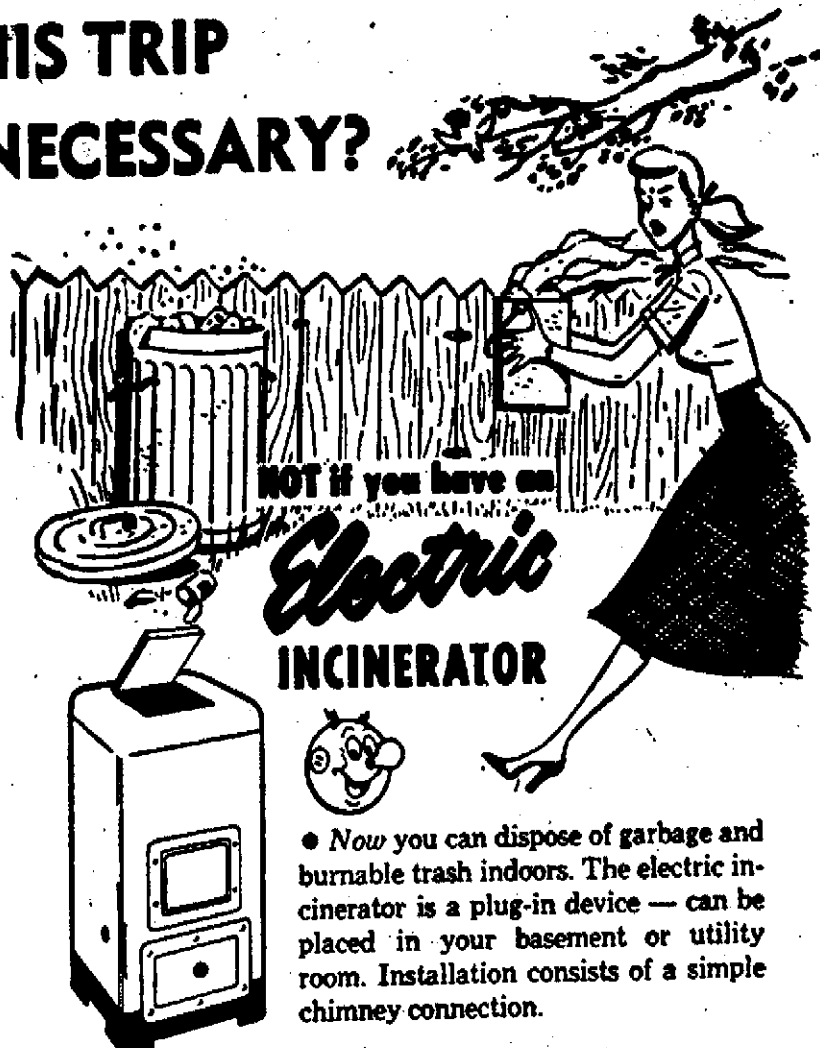

"You do not understand," he continued. "Many Soviet military units have their own Communist party organizations, just as non-military organizations have their units. I reject the suggestion given by capitalistic countries that an army must be out of politics."

"The armed forces of the Soviet Union are a practical instrument of the Communist party, an extension of the teachings of Lenin and Marx. It bespeaks unity. Our practice has proved correct."

Concerning the war in Korea, this conversation took place:

"Certainly we helped the North Koreans. We sold them some arms in much the same proportions as America provided arms for Syngman

Photography as Science Reaches New Heights

BY IRVING DESFOR
AP Wirephoto

President Eisenhower turned photo reporter on his nationwide television address a few weeks ago. He displayed a photograph of a naval air base taken from an altitude of 70,000 feet. The details of buildings, installations, runways and planes were remarkably clear.

"The white lines in the parking strips around the field," he pointed out, "are clearly discernible from 13 miles up." Then he added, "Those lines are just six inches wide."

Telephoto Lens
The president's remarks were a tribute to the noteworthy heights achieved by modern photographic science. Still another example came to my attention recently which is just as incredible.

Imagine a camera which will photograph a golf ball in flight from a distance of eight miles so that the spots of the golf ball will show. Or reveal the same on a baseball in motion five miles away.

The remarkable eye which can do this is "a telephoto cine camera for high-precision photo coverage of a moving object in space and time," to quote the air force report of this achievement.

Naturally any camera with such farsightedness wasn't designed merely to cover sports events from afar. In fact, when it costs close to $1 million dollars, it's more than a camera. . . it's a theodolite, a system for tracking missiles in space.

The largest theodolite in the free world, capable of the golf and baseball stunt, has just been installed on the White Sands Missile Range at Holoman Air Force Base, N.M. It will produce detailed pictures of missiles up to altitudes of 100,000 feet from two 70mm movie cameras.

Taking pictures of such magnitude is part of the achievement. It is also important to aim the camera device, keep it on target and to record all important data every step of the way.

The Roti Mark 1 (recording optical tracking instrument, model 1) does this complete job. It is mounted on a modified naval anti-aircraft gun focus just like zoom lenses on a platform which rotates a full hand-held movie cameras. The

This Million-Dollar camera system, which photographs and records missiles in space, has twin-cannon telescope lenses on 70mm movie cameras.

360 degrees and also swings up and down. In operation, each telescope, operate at every point of the compass and degree of elevation is noted by a 35mm data-recording camera.

Targets are sighted through two astronomical telescopes with 16-inch apertures. These telescopes range through a combined total of eight separate focal-length settings from 50 to 500 inches for continuous focus just like zoom lenses on a camera.

The Roti's 20-mile range is for missiles like the Falcon and Sidewinder. It can track larger missiles, rockets and satellites at far greater distances, up to several hundred miles while recording the flight path, velocity, acceleration and altitude.

"And beyond that," adds Air Force project engineer Orvie A. Steele, "it can still search out the craters of the moon."

To return to earth and more practical considerations of electronic cameras, here's an example of how we can be trapped by them. The Garden City, N. Y., Police Department has installed a $2,500 camera device called a "Photo Patrol."

This is placed by the roadside with two rubber tapes leading from it, extending across the road and three feet apart. When a speeding auto passes over the tapes, the camera can snap a picture of its rear, clearly revealing its license plate number. A photo record of the car's speed is included in the picture as evidence.

In effect, the speeder snaps his own picture by triggering the remote control.

Articles on Expense Accounts Criticized

Head of Un-American Activities Committee Calls Knight Series 'Smear and Innuendo'

Washington — (U. S. P. A.) Walter called the stories Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) scurrilous and a "concoction" says newspaper stories on half truths, untruths, smear congressional expense accounts and innuendo adorned with counts "directly played into the hands of the communist smearing the committee on un-American activities."

Opened Mail Bags One article portrayed the committee as staging a road show in which the same writers of copyrighted stories press in a number of different published by the Knight cities opened overseas mail newspapers. Two of the series bags and pulled out what was discussed expense accounts called communist propagandists and actions of Walter's committee.

The bags were opened in tighter schedules.

each case by Irving Fishman, deputy collector of the U. S. Customs service at New York. Walter said the suggestion that the hearings were a traveling act "is not only untruthful, but its presentation in this vein, after the authors were three times given a full explanation of the facts, is vile."

The series, by reporters Don Oberdorfer and Walter Pinchus, also reported vouchers turned in by committee members for $45 hotel and restaurant bills, night club tabs and hired limousines.

Policy Prohibits It Walter deplored this, saying the committee's policy prohibits charging entertainment, liquor or personal expenses to the government. He said the hiring of limousines in some cities actually saved money and enabled committee members to keep tighter schedules.

A 6-Ounce Mechanical Hand that enables persons with paralyzed hands to perform many daily tasks is demonstrated by Dr. Arthur J. Heather, left, medical director of the department of physical medicine and rehabilitation of the Eugene du Pont Memorial hospital, Wilmington, Del. Dr. Heather, who invented and perfected the mechanical hand under a grant from the Easter Seal Research foundation, explains how it operates to Charles Daniels, engineer who assisted in designing the device.

New 'Hand' Developed For Paralyzed Persons

Delaware Doctor Invents 6-Ounce Device
Which Uses Nylon Cylinders, Tap Water

Today a person with paralyzed hands can look forward to picking up a pencil and writing, to lathering his face and shaving, to eating with fork or spoon and to using a telephone—all this, thanks to an ingenious new "hand."

Developed under a grant from the Easter Seal Research Foundation, the device is the work of Dr. Arthur J. Heather, medical director of the department of physical medicine and rehabilitation of the Eugene du Pont Memorial hospital, Wilmington, Del. The device, which weighs only six ounces, is hydraulically operated by tap water and any part can be replaced at the cost of a few pennies.

Two patients who are paralyzed in all four limbs are being trained at the du Pont hospital in the use of the mechanical hand, thus offering hopes for useful lives to those paralyzed by accident, stroke, polio and other causes.

Chuck Type Grasp
Dr. Heather describes the hand as giving the patient "a three jaw chuck type grasp with the activating mechanism placed either on the arm of a chair or in any position to enable him to open the hand."

"The total weight of the apparatus is six ounces. However, the portion of the hand attached to the patient weighs only four and one half ounces. The hydraulic system is filled with tap water and the master and slave cylinders are made of nylon," Dr. Heather says. That the hand will withstand years of wear has been demonstrated in the tests described by Dr. Heather: "One of the hands was placed in a cycling machine and operated continuously for a period corresponding to 26 years' use by the patient. At the end of this run, there was no loss of fluid; and in fact, the cylinders acted more smoothly after prolonged use."

Inexpensive Parts
"About the only thing that will wear out over prolonged use are the O-rings in the slave cylinder and the plastic tubing. The O-rings may be replaced for a cost of about 12 cents and the plastic tubing would cost approximately 30 cents to replace. . . . We estimate the finger units may be replaced at a cost of about 30 to 60 cents each."

The grant which made possible development of the hand is one of many grants from Easter Seal funds for research, care, treatment, and education for crippled people.

Industry-Labor Conference Fails

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The much-touted "Labor-Management Conference" at which industry and labor leaders would discuss fundamental problems away from the bargaining table and thereby help promote a healthy price and wage stability in our land is apparently heading for a quiet death in infancy. The likelihood that a second summit meeting of industry and union leaders will be held "in the foreseeable future" is, according to informed sources, "very dim."

The president of the National Association of Manufacturers and other top industry leaders, the president of the AFL-CIO and other top union officials had an initial meeting in Washington, May 18. They talked in private for almost three hours, and at the end AFL-CIO chief George Meany said the discussion had been "completely amicable" and the next meeting would be held as soon as possible, probably in six or eight weeks.

The support behind the initial conference was certainly high-level enough—ranging from President Eisenhower down. To avoid any taint of government "pressures," though, the program called for only labor and management participants, no observers from government or the "public."

Austrian Example
Yet even this modest effort to reduce misinformation and misunderstandings about each other which could lead to a repetition of the prolonged steel strike of 1959 is to get nowhere.

Can any "voluntary" program of this sort ever produce results? Whether it can in our sprawling industrialized country with its giant corporations and powerful unions I wouldn't presume to guess, but at this moment of disillusion about even a bit of progress, a report about what is being achieved in Austria appears worthwhile.

In the first several years

following World War II, Austria's inflation was a devastating 20 to 30 per cent a year, but since 1957 it has chalked up the best record for price stability of any European nation — including traditionally stable Switzerland. Its wholesale price index has remained absolutely level in the 3-year period, its consumer price index has climbed only 2 per cent. At the same time, the spectacular rise in the efficiency of its production has permitted significant wage increases and a shortening of the workweek.

12-Member Commission
A key reason for the impressive performance, international economists agree, is Austria's price-wage commission, created March 30, 1957, to serve as an adviser to the Austrian government and consisting of 12 key members from industry, labor, agriculture and government.

The commission's objective is to maintain economic stability by studying and weighing the economic justification of any proposed wage and price increase.

All intended price and wage hikes must be reported to the commission, which exhaustively analyzes each request. A unanimous decision is necessary on the propriety of each request.

While the commission has no legal power to enforce its decisions, obviously the power of its recommendations and the force of public opinion are sufficiently strong not only to have restrained price increases but at times actually to have induced price cuts. As for wages, last year it disapproved demands by the Teamsters union and, in many instances, sliced original demands for increases of 15 to 20 per cent to 3 to 5 per cent. No one even pretends the commission is fully effective or foolproof. Probably it shouldn't be in any country aspiring even to a semblance of freedom. But it has been remarkably effective. Can't our industry and labor leaders find anything in the Austrian experience that might be of value to us?

Lawrence Says

Democrats Pick Wrong Time For Criticism

Both Parties Attack Presidents At Poor Moments

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — There is a good deal of discussion going on these days, in and out of congress, concerning some of the criticisms recently directed toward President Eisenhower regarding the collapse of the summit conference and the U-2 incident.

Lawrence

Republican leaders in the senate say Democratic presidential candidates should not be attacking President Eisenhower while he is abroad.

One hears, too, from defenders of the Democratic tirades that anyone who questions the timing of the criticism is against all criticism or in favor of press censorship. Those who are advocating nonpartisanship today were doubtless against any such unity when Democratic presidents were in office.

This correspondent has criticized and defended presidents from both parties. For instance, when the Republicans in the senate blocked the entry of the U.S. into the League of Nations in 1919, this writer severely criticized the action as undermining the president's power to negotiate in behalf of the U.S.

Similarly, in October, 1939, just after World War II broke out, this correspondent again criticized the Republicans for the partisanship shown against Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

No Partisanship
Prior to the Yalta conference in January 1945, these dispatches called attention to the absence of partisanship in and out of congress, and it was written that "at no time since the war began has there been such a unanimity of sentiment on both sides of the political aisle as there is today."

Then, in June, 1950, when another Democratic president, Harry Truman, took the all-important step of ordering our military forces into Korea, this correspondent reported: "There is no more partisan politics now, as both parties get behind the president in a remarkable demonstration of unity before all the world."

The idea that those who deny partisanship in the midst of an international crisis are against all forms of criticism is absurd. Nobody objects to criticism of governmental policy, but there is a time and place for everything. One does not like to see Cyrus Eaton parading around communist countries heaping criticism on his own government, though he does possess the legal right of free speech. One doesn't like to read his comments to the communist press that a Democratic president would be better for the Russians in 1961 than a Republican.

Poor Timing
One also doesn't like to see congress publicize military information about our missiles or our U-2 flights at the very time Nikita Khrushchev is engaged in a crusade of insults against the president. No governmental censorship of the press need ever be imposed.

Christmas Tree Growers Discuss Larger Exports

Over 100 members of the Wisconsin Christmas Tree Producers association met at Antigo Friday and Saturday to review prospects for enlarged export sales of trees from Wisconsin and to tour some Christmas tree culture practices in Langlade county. The latest findings in the control of pine yellowing, a serious source of losses among Scotch and Norway pine cut for the Christmas market, was discussed.

Jack McKenna, Madison, Harry Nelson, Wisconsin Rapids, and Howard Pierce, Black River Falls, were elected to 3-year terms as directors. Robert Tremaine, West Salem, was elected secretary and Don Radtke, New London, and Tony Schuh, Elcho, were reelected president and vice president.

Democrats Choose Committee on Resolutions

Three area men will serve on the resolutions committee for the Democratic state convention in Milwaukee next weekend. Patrick J. Lucey, Madison, state chairman, has announced. William Riker, Appleton; Al Charapata, Oshkosh, and George Borchardt, Waupaca, will be on the committee.

but self-restraint should be used, so that things that for military reasons should remain secret do not get into print.

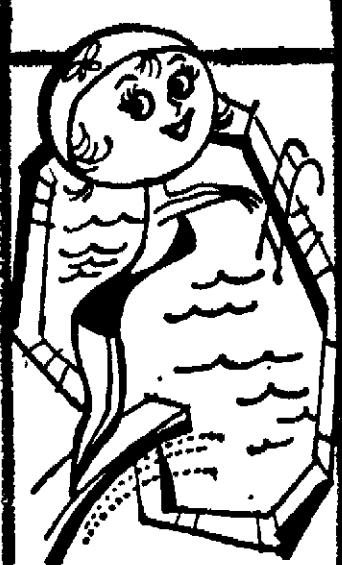

There will be plenty of chances for Democratic speakers to rake the administration over the coals, but there is a wrong and a right time for such criticism. When a final decision has been made, or negotiations completed, there is opportunity for criticism.

Discussion is always healthy. The critics, however, who give aid and comfort to the enemy in a crisis do so unwittingly and not deliberately. It is the judgment they display, rather than their loyalty, which is open to question and subject to condemnation.

recorded an average gain of five square miles for each of the last three years. It has doubled its geographical area in the last 10 years.

Thus far this year it has expanded its boundaries to take in four and one half square miles. One of the annexations added a spectacular four and one half square miles to the city's jurisdiction, 4,000 residents.

As Mayor Ivan Nestgen has put it, the 4,000 sq. Madison ahead of Rockford, across the line in Illinois, which had been chortling that it had overtaken Madison in numbers of inhabitants.

Lloyd Rooney, a specialist in the city attorney's office who was hired three years ago to work on annexation matters exclusively, reports he has pending three or four more annexation petitions that will probably be approved by the city council during the next six to eight months.

Rooney admits that he may be optimistic about the future, but on his wall hangs a map showing the city's boundaries as he envisions them.

Carpenters of State Join in History Project

Shop-Raising Bee Scheduled Saturday At Cassville Museum

How fast the carpenters' union can build a carpenter shop will be demonstrated Saturday at Stonefield Farm and Craft museum at Cassville, where the State Historical Society of Wisconsin is reconstructing a typical Wisconsin village of the 1890s.

The Wisconsin State Council, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, is holding a union-wide carpenter shop-raising bee at the village, starting at 8:30 in the morning. Carpenters from all over the southern and central Wisconsin are coming for the event, and bringing their saws, hammers, wives and children with them.

$1,800 Gift

The carpenter shop in the village reproduction is being financed by a gift of $1,800 to the historical society from the Wisconsin Council of Carpenters and Joiners. Part of the gift is being used to employ five old-time union members who are doing the preliminary work on the construction project.

Men familiar with barn and rough building construction methods, the old-timers are preparing six-inch square oak timbers for the framework of the building. Lap joints on the timbers are being cut with antique adzes and broad-bladed axes. Holes for the wooden dowels that will hold the timbers together are being drilled with old-time bit and brace.

Authentic Work

When the building is completed, from frame to roof-top, it will be an authentic reproduction of a carpenter shop. The building will be equipped with antique carpenter tools, many of them furnished by members of the brotherhood.

28 Policemen Sign Petition For Pay Hikes

Last Raise in 1959; Nothing Budgeted For 1960 Increase

Pay increases are being sought by 28 members of Appleton's 66-man police force. A petition signed by the 28 men was presented to the police and fire commission more than a week ago, but to date it has not been received in city hall.

It was learned today the commission requested one of its members, Atty. James Joyce, to draft an accompanying resolution and he has not finished it yet.

1959 Raise

Last raise policemen received was in April, 1959. The increase was approved by the council in October, 1959, but was made retroactive to April.

Nothing was budgeted in 1959 for raises in 1960 for any city employees.

(This has been one of the arguments of Robert Schlieve, Teamster business agent, who has organized about 100 street, sanitation, sewage plant and park employees, and who last December revealed plans to attempt to organize police and firemen.)

Pay hikes for police in 1959 ranged from a low of $2.83 a month to more than $20, including some merit increases.

A check of signatures on the petition reveals the signers are not exclusively those who received only small raises in 1959.

Passenger Injured In County Accident

One man received minor injuries about 11:10 p.m. Saturday in a town of Kaukauna accident less than a mile from the Brown county line.

Amel Reindl, 56, of route 1, Allenton, received a sprained back when a car driven by Frederick A. Elyard, 61, of 305 W. Doty street, Neenah, struck the left side of a car driven by Leander G. Reindl, 20, route 1, Allenton.

Reindl told county police he was driving south on Highway 41 when the Elyard auto attempted to pass. When it moved along side, Reindl said, it cut too quickly hitting the side of his vehicle.

Bay Police Nab Boy in Stolen Auto

A 16-year-old Appleton boy who stole a car from the Memorial hospital parking lot about 6:30 p.m. Sunday was taken into custody by Green Bay police about 1 1/2 hours later.

The youth made a break for freedom as he was being escorted to the Brown county jail but gave up when a policeman drew his gun and ordered him to halt.

Appleton police transmitted an area alert at 6:30 for the stolen car, a 1958 yellow Cadillac convertible.

Twenty minutes after the teletype message was received in Green Bay, Harold Stache, a city policeman on his beat, reported he saw the auto traveling east on Walnut street.

Sgt. Kenneth Bierke and Donald Smith left county traffic headquarters in a squad car and picked up the trail.

They spotted the car on E. Walnut street near Monroe avenue and apprehended the car and driver when the youth halted for a red light.

The youth is being held in juvenile quarters at the Outagamie county jail awaiting juvenile court action.

Byrnes said the Workmen's Compensation act of Wisconsin served as a model for legislation now in effect in nearly all states.

Clerk Says Referendum Petition Is Defective

Election on Twin Willows Attachment Won't Be Called Unless New Petition Is Filed

The petition for a referendum on the Twin Willows school attachment order is defective and an election will not be called unless a new and proper one is filed, County Clerk Mollie E. Pfeiffer said today.

Three faults Corporation Counsel Raymond P. Dohr found three faults with the petition as filed Thursday. It failed to request a referendum on the school committees' order as required by the state statute; it failed to state properly the question of the election, and it failed to state that the signers were qualified residents and electors of the district.

July 1 Date People who want a referendum have until July 1 to file a petition requesting an election, which would be held in Appleton, in Twin Willows district and in the areas of the town of Grand Chute which have been attached to the city for school purposes.

If an election is not called, the order for attachment will become effective July 1.

Taubel caught up to Boutwell at 2:45 a.m. Sunday after chasing him for 1 1/2 miles at speeds ranging up to 81 miles an hour north of Manawa. Boutwell was driving without lights.

Taubel told Police Justice George Whalen this morning that Boutwell told him he was having generator trouble—that he had to travel that fast to charge his battery—that if he had turned on his lights, they would have drained the battery and made his speed useless.

Justice Whalen fined Boutwell $75 for reckless driving and another $25 for driving a non-registered vehicle. He also took Boutwell's ingenious excuse under judicial scrutiny.

Bard Not Forgotten, He's Become Major Industry in Old Hometown

BY RYAN MORIN
Stratford-On-Avon, England. — "I've always liked to night's play," says the waitress in the hotel dining room. "But it isn't one of his best, you know."
"Prefer the histories, myself," says a taxi driver.
"Saw the lot, beginning to end, last summer."
This is Stratford-on-Avon, Will Shakespeare's hometown. Here, regardless of occupation, everyone seems to be a Shakespearean authority, major or minor.
The tobaccoist has definite ideas about the disputed meanings in "Hamlet." The shopgirl thinks it's "a bit hard" that Shakespeare bequeathed only his second-best bed to his widow, Ann Hathaway.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. UW to Enroll About 8,000 in Summer Classes

Madison — The University of Wisconsin is preparing to open its 75th summer sessions, but the final enrollment figure is still a question mark.

Last year the total enrollment of all summer sessions on the Madison campus was 7,888, and officials predict about 8,000 this year.

Summer sessions fees are up this year. And, for the first time in the university's history, there is a different fee for residents and non-residents — the former paying $80 and the latter $110 for the 8-week session, or $45 and $62 for either of the first or second 4-week sessions. Last year all students paid one fee.

In addition, this year's UW summer sessions are starting earlier than usual — even before some of the schools in Wisconsin and many other states have finished their spring terms.

"No mud and dirt! Everything's a lot cleaner since we got a concrete street!"

Concrete's the street for good homemakers! No tar to track in. No dust and dirt from periodic patching and surface treatment. Laid flat, concrete stays flat—there are never any hollow spots to collect water or to cause dangerous swerves. Concrete's grainy surface assures quick, safe stops—resists skidding, even when wet.

And concrete reflects far more light than a dark surface for better visibility at night. With all this, concrete's initial cost is moderate. And the city can all but forget about upkeep. Modern concrete is the preferred pavement for residential streets... and it belongs on the street in front of your home.

Get together with your neighbors! If your street needs paving, make your preference for concrete known. Concrete is the only pavement that can be accurately engineered to carry the expected traffic loads on your street and lasts 50 years and more.

Airport Project On County Board Session Agenda

Committee to Report on Progress in Land Purchases

Oshkosh — Aviation committee members will bring the county board up to date Tuesday on the progress toward the $600,000 project contemplated for this year and next year.

The airport project is one of the main business items to come before the board's meeting Tuesday.

Negotiations have been underway for several months to secure about 217 acres to expand the airport to the west.

Two of the properties needed, totaling about 20 acres, have been purchased for $31,000 but owners of the balance have turned down the aviation committee's offer of about $139,000 for their land.

The county board at its April meeting authorized condemnation proceedings to secure the balance of the land.

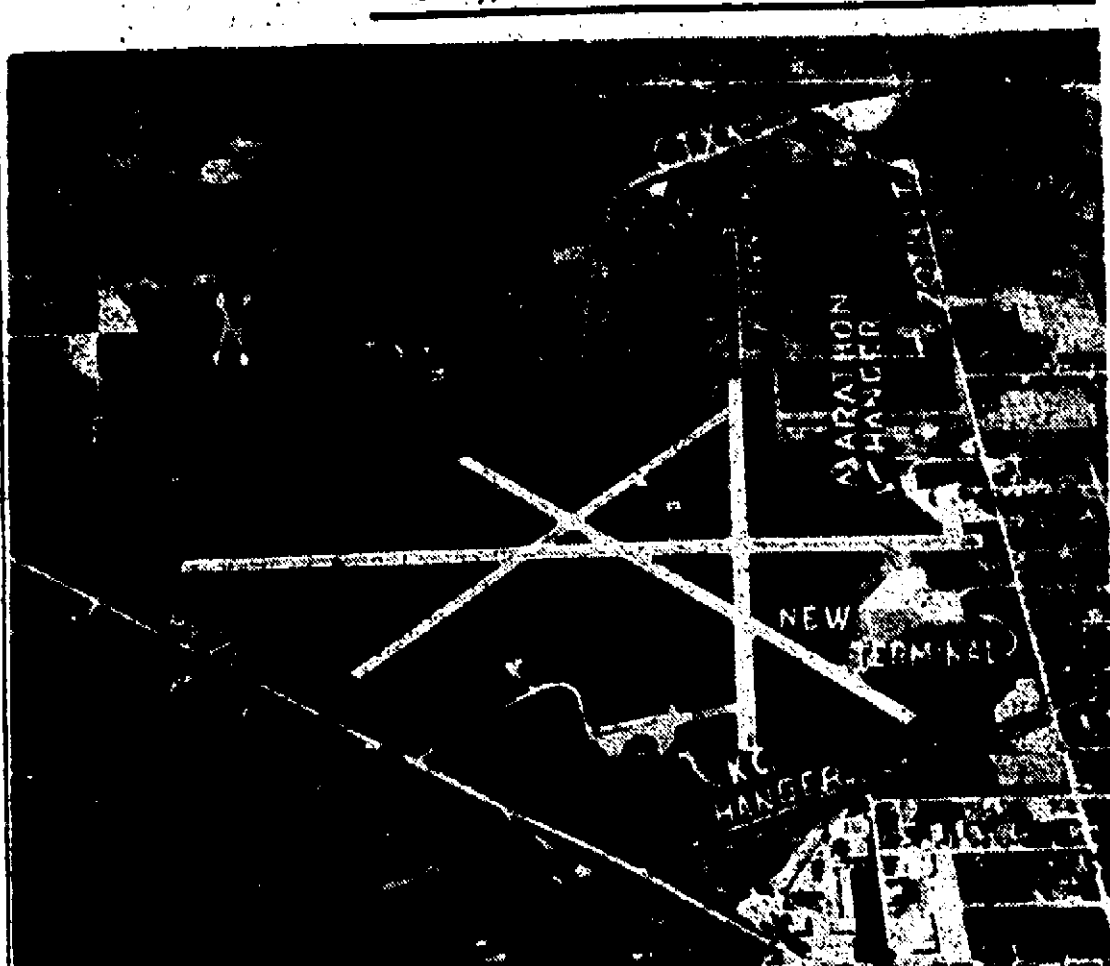

Instrument Landing
Winnebago county's airport earlier this year was authorized for installation of an instrument landing runway, one of 18 such systems approved for installation this year by the federal aviation agency.

Cost of this installation was estimated at $195,900.

This type of system guides aircraft during final approach to an airfield using radio transmitters that indicate direction of runway and angle of the glide path, coupled with radio marker beacons showing the plane's approach along the approach path.

The east-west runway would be extended west in the direction of Highway 41 as part of the instrument landing plan. It is for this extension that the extra land is needed. A taxiway will be added parallel to the east-west runway so landing planes may proceed to the terminal building on a separate strip and leave the main runway open for other planes taking off or landing.

Flight Control Tower
A third part of this project is the construction of a flight control tower. This was authorized several years ago. The tower will be built with state, federal and county funds but

How Winnebago County's Airport at Oshkosh will look after the $600,000 project authorized by the federal government is completed is shown above. The project includes the extension of the east-west runway as shown at the right center, making this an instrument landing runway. This will require the purchase of 217 acres west of the airport and relocating of county trunk XX as marked on the photograph. Also indicated are the location of the Kimberly-Clark hangar, Marathon hangar which will be enlarged and the new terminal building. Location of the airport to three major state highways also is shown.

Strike Delays Work On New Police Station

Appleton Painters Union Walks Out; Jail Nearing Completion

Neenah — An Appleton painters union strike has held up completion of the new Neenah police station, it was reported today. An Appleton firm is the subcontractor for the painting for the Hoffman company, Inc., general contractor.

Police had anticipated being able to start moving in equipment next week into the new station. Much of the office equipment already has been delivered and it was expected that occupancy could begin early in July.

A small amount of painting and some electrical work still remains to be done, according to Police Chief Irving Stip. The cell equipment already is installed.

The antenna on top of the 100-foot radio tower was installed Saturday and the transfer of the radio equipment may be done this week. Chief Stip said the police department could operate from the present station on remote equipment for awhile.

The telephone company also is expected to complete its work in the building this week.

Gaily Colored Butterflies Of Paper Really Can Fly

BY CAPTY DICK

Paper butterflies are fun to make on a rainy day, or any day, for that matter. There's a kind which girls can wear as a bracelet and another kind that can be made to move its wings.

To make a bracelet like that in Figure 1 use a piece of heavy paper. Colored construction paper — yellow, for example — will do nicely. Start with a piece five inches long and three inches wide. Fold it end to end and on one side outline half of a butterfly as in Figure 2. Cut along that outline with scissors, open the paper and the complete butterfly will result.

Color the butterfly with your crayons to make it as pretty as possible. Punch two small holes in its back (see Figure 1), thread a ribbon through them and tie the butterfly to your wrist.

To make the flying butterfly shown in Figure 3, fold and cut a big piece of thin paper. Make two slits in the body of the butterfly, just large enough to slip a pencil through. Color the wings gaily. Slip the pencil into the slits with the eraser end to the front, forming the butterfly's head. To make the wings move as though flying, wave the pencil up and down.

For a butterfly that can be sailed like a plane, use construction paper to form the wings. Assemble wings and pencil in the same manner. Then throw the butterfly forward into the air, eraser end first. Adjust the position of the pencil (or use a longer or shorter one) until you can make the butterfly glide gracefully.

NEWS OF THE FOX VALLEY

Donald C. Ribbet has been promoted to manager of the Birmingham district office for P&H construction and mining equipment manufactured by Harnischfeger corporation of Milwaukee.

Ribbet joined Harnischfeger three years ago. For the last year he has been sales representative in the Birmingham territory.

The territory now will include all of Alabama, middle and eastern Tennessee, and the western panhandle of Florida.

The American Automobile association Wisconsin division has announced the appointment of Edward F. Arndt, 363 Cleveland, Menasha, as sales representative of the motor club, according to Harold H. Hayssen, general sales manager. Arndt will work in Appleton and Outagamie county under the district manager, Leland Raab.

The net loss for the first five months of this year was $3,382,604 as compared with a net loss of $1,112,439 for the same period in 1959.

Requests for Student Loans Keep Rising

Madison — Application from college and university students for state student loans continue to increase in spite of the recent availability of financial assistance to students under the national defense education act.

But the state welfare department says that with the larger appropriations authorized by the legislature at Gov. Nelson's request last year there probably will be enough money to meet all eligible applications.

The last legislature provided an additional $200,000 for the 1960-61 academic year. Money repaid on old accounts is also loaned out again, as well as the interest charges that become effective after a student leaves school. Students have had a good rate of repayment on their unsecured notes.

Requests Double — The number of student loan requests to the state department has more than doubled during the last three years. Last year the total was about 600, for a money total of about $204,000 or about $348 each.

All students at Wisconsin colleges and universities are eligible, if they can prove their need.

Gov. Nelson proposed to have management of the loans transferred to the state department of public instruction, but the legislature kept the program within the welfare department where it has been for the last 25 years.

This 2-Drive Covered bridge two miles south of Eaton, Ohio, is one of only eight remaining in the United States. Built in 1929, its rugged beams indicate the span would stand for centuries, but the flooring takes a beating. The bridge crosses Seven Mile creek.

Another Patrol Being Sought for Chain O'Lakes

King — The Chain O'Lakes Protective association will petition the county board for another patrolman for the lakes during July and August.

The request was announced during a meeting at King when the new zoning ordinances for the townships of Farmington and Dayton and the new state boating law were discussed by Mrs. E. G. Zemlock, Neenah, president. Mrs. Zemlock said it is contemplated that a trailer ordinance and building code be

School Head at Education Parley

Chilton — F. J. Flanagan, Calumet county superintendent of schools and a member of the governor's committee on education, is attending a meeting of the latter group today at New Richmond.

The purpose of the meeting is to decide the fate of county superintendents of schools after the school unification is completed in July, 1962. The changeover will place all areas under the supervision of high school superintendents, abolishing the county office.

Recommendations Resulting from the Meeting will be Presented to the Legislature

The following communications were read by the Assistant Secretary, Mr. Nehs:

1. From Wisconsin Telephone Company with respect to installation of two telephone poles on or adjacent to the Foster School site.
2. Letter of appreciation from Mr. Sherwood Russell, Chairman of the Welfare Committee of the A.E.A.
3. Mr. Mann presented the Superintendent's Report as follows:
 1. New contracts for the 1960-61 School year:
 - Miss Suzanne Schultz, BA $4,350.00 — French
 - Anthony Bacich, MA, $7,150.00
 - Orcher Reichardt, BS, $4,750.00 — Eng-SS
 2. Jr. Chamber of Commerce requests that picture be taken on June 10, 11, 12, 1960. Your Superintendent recommends that the request be granted.
 3. The following teacher is recommended for the $100 stipend for 15 or more credits towards a Masters Degree:
 - Mrs. E. L. Gresham.
 4. Enclosed is an application from the principal of Roosevelt Jr. School requesting help for cused the possibility of taking over the school nurses. The following points were discussed:

- 1) Nursing, being a paramedical service, should logically be directed and supervised by a physician and Board of Health.
- 2) A Health Department nursing service provides a general service in the narrow area of school health.
- 3) Tasks such as First Aid and taking of 12 child home from school could be performed by others than the public health nurse.
- 4) The Public Health Nurse in the school system is now employed for only 9 1/2 months a year, and her talents could be used for 12 months, which would be a greater aid to our community for no increase in cost. The service would be on a 12-month basis, rather than the 9-month school year schedule.
- 5) Rather than having several public health nursing agencies in Appleton, unification would decrease duplication of time, travel, administrative costs, office and clerical expense and would provide for the opportunity of coordinated planning.
- 6) Chief problem in regards to taking over the school nurses is — do we have the proper supervision for them?

It was concluded that the Board of Health should work out a definite plan of operation and meet again with the board at a later date.

It was moved by Mr. Nehs and seconded by Mr. Sumnicht that the minutes of May 3, 1960 be approved. Carried.

City of Appleton OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

May 23, 1960

The second monthly meeting of the Board of Education was called to order by the President, Mr. Krueger, at 7:15 p.m. May 23, 1960 in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. Present: Messrs. Krueger, Nehs, Harder, Sumnicht, Dr. McLeod and Mrs. Davis. Absent: Mr. Schneider.

The Appleton Board of Health met with the board and discussed the possibility of taking over the school nurses. The following points were discussed:

- 1) Nursing, being a paramedical service, should logically be directed and supervised by a physician and Board of Health.
- 2) A Health Department nursing service provides a general service in the narrow area of school health.
- 3) Tasks such as First Aid and taking of 12 child home from school could be performed by others than the public health nurse.
- 4) The Public Health Nurse in the school system is now employed for only 9 1/2 months a year, and her talents could be used for 12 months, which would be a greater aid to our community for no increase in cost. The service would be on a 12-month basis, rather than the 9-month school year schedule.
- 5) Rather than having several public health nursing agencies in Appleton, unification would decrease duplication of time, travel, administrative costs, office and clerical expense and would provide for the opportunity of coordinated planning.
- 6) Chief problem in regards to taking over the school nurses is — do we have the proper supervision for them?

English teachers. Your Superintendent recommends that this request be held in abeyance contingent on budgetary consideration.

Enclosed is a copy of a letter from Alfred H. Johnson, Secretary-Treasurer of the Appleton Ministerial Association. Discussion of this matter should come up at the time the Education Committee discusses the application for dismissed time.

Request of School Board Journal for picture of the board along with one of a new school. Mr. Mary Grier requests use of old Jackson barracks for Nursery School Association.

Request from Quarterback Club inquiring as to possibility of using Lawrence College Football field on those dates which are not in conflict with the Lawrence College program. The Club also asked for a permanent field for the Senior High athletics.

Since students for summer school classes in Art and Typing are too large for one teacher, request is made for board approval in hiring one extra teacher for each Art and Typing.

Request of Dr. Thode regarding library project sponsored by P.T.A.

Request for board decision on using Federal funds for the milk program.

Bill 992-A — Amendment No. 1-a. This amendment refers to the question of annexation and roads in part as follows: "If the area designated to be annexed for all purposes, under school re-organization, refuses this action they will not be attached for any purposes, but will remain non-resident for high school purposes or may have to create new districts just outside the city." This is in conflict with 45-a, which is now a law. Your Superintendent feels that the Legislature will probably pass an amendment comparable to this one or move forward the deadline date.

It was moved by Mr. Sumnicht and seconded by Mr. Harder that the Superintendent's report be approved. Carried on a roll call vote.

Item No. 6 — Board recommendation: That picture be taken at the next regular meeting on June 13, 1960.

Item No. 7 — Board recommendation: Impossible to grant this request since the Jackson barracks are used by Roosevelt Marine Department.

Item No. 12 — Board recommendation: That the Superintendent study this situation.

Mr. Michael Brandt, Senior High Art teacher, appeared before the board to explain the Art Course in Esthetics at the Senior High.

Mr. Kniff presented the report of the Director of Business Affairs as follows:

1. Tabulation of insurance bids (crime) — copy attached.
2. Mr. L. Swartout, insurance counselor, was present to discuss the insurance bids.
3. The board recommended renewal of the policy under same conditions as before and refused the proposal for open stock burglary insurance which it deemed unnecessary at this time.
4. Dr. McLeod moved that the current coverage be added to the Hartford Accident & Indemnity (Coffee Agencies, Inc.) on Plan No. 1 at a cost of $1,853.33, less $151.50 or $1,701.83. Seconded by Mr. Harder and carried on a roll call vote.
5. The matter of renewal of Mr. Swartout's contract was discussed under advisement at the next regular board meeting. Carried.

Neither the Education Committee or Business Affairs Committee presented a report.

Under old business, the request of Wisconsin Telephone Company to install a pole adjacent to the Foster School site was discussed. Under date of May 17, 1960, the telephone company advised that the northern most pole could be placed within West Foster Court and six feet from the eastern boundary of the Foster School property. This would place the pole well out of the playground area involved.

It was agreed by the board that the above revised plan of pole installation would meet board approval.

It was recommended that the Director of Business Affairs advise the Wisconsin Telephone Company of the board's action and thank them for their cooperation.

Trane Ventilator representatives appeared before the board to request the board for reconsideration of Trane ventilators for the new Edison School.

The board agreed to abide by its previous decision in approving the purchase of Trane Ventilators. It was moved by Mr. Harder and seconded by Mrs. Davis that the board resolve itself into a committee of the whole. Carried.

Dr. McLeod moved, seconded by Mr. Nehs that the board reconvene.

Meeting adjourned.

Franklin L. Nehs, Assistant Secretary

Summer Becomes Time For Outdoor Parties

BY ANGELO PATRI

Summer time is party time for the young people and for the children too. They love parties. A couple of friends, a shady tree, a bag of cookies have often spelled a party for school-free youngsters. The older ones are likely to be more formal about the idea. There must be invitations. Grownup people are likely to forget what importance is attached to these. Who shall be invited, who left out, is an exciting preliminary to the great event. Then comes the discussion with mother.

No mother escapes the party preparations from the invitation phase to the lingering goodbye of the last guest. Of course the critical element of the whole affair is the refreshment problem. This is where mother comes in and also where daughter should take hold and learn how to create what she wants to put before her guests, polish the odds and ends that give color and shine and the party air that adds so much to enjoyment. Until she shares the work the party is not hers as it should be.

Obtain Permission

Is the party to be a picnic? The place should be selected with thoughtful care. If it is to be on private property permission must be obtained. Too, there must be assurance that there is good water, no poison ivy or oak, and that some adult is on hand. Then full speed ahead for the picnic baskets.

At every party for children and young people there must be adult supervision, chaperones, if you will, but always, in the not-too distant background, there must be a mother or father, or both, or an adult supervisor. This is not likely to sit well with some of the adolescents but experience teaches us that some such supervision is essential. No young person should object to the loving protection of their family.

Program of Activities

When everything is arranged, the time for arrival of the guests and, very important, the time of their departure, set, there must be a program

Little Chute Setting for Ceremony

St. John Catholic church, Little Chute, was the scene of the May 26 double ring wedding in which Miss Rose Ann Schumacher was married to Robert Mirkes. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schumacher, route 1, Kaukauna, was given in marriage by her father to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mirkes, 1608 N. Harriman street. The Rev. Martin H. Vosbeek officiated.

Miss Betty Mae Schumacher, Kaukauna, was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. John Leisgang, the bride's sister from Seymour, Miss Lucille Noe, Isaac, and Mrs. Gale Van Dinter, Wautoma. Miss Ann Plach was miniature bride.

John Leisgang, Seymour, was best man, and Bernard Schumacher, the bride's brother from Kaukauna, and Gale Van Dinter, Wautoma, groomsmen. Jim Plach ushered, and Gary Van Handel was dressed as a miniature bridegroom.

The wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Guests attended a reception and supper at Pine Castle.

The new Mrs. Mirkes had been employed by St. Elizabeth hospital. She and her husband will live at Gile Flowage where Mr. Mirkes does construction work.

Princess Margaret and Her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, left the royal yacht Britannia at Portsmouth, England, Saturday on returning from their honeymoon cruise in the Caribbean.

Daughter Wrong to Date Man

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of my daughter's has gone to visit her mother who lives in another state. She will be gone for three weeks. This friend is married but her husband could not go with her because of his job. My daughter met him the other day and he told her that he was very lonesome and asked her if she would go out to dinner with him one night. She accepted. I do not think it is proper for her to go out with him and that she should call him and cancel their date. She thinks I am being very narrow-minded and sees nothing wrong in her going. My daughter, incidentally, is single.

Answer: I agree with you that your daughter should not go out alone with her absent friend's husband. It would invite gossip and might even turn out to be the beginning of a serious situation.

Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it rude to refer to someone in her own presence as "she"? Shouldn't it be by name?

Answer: Most certainly "she" should be referred to by name. But if brief comment lengthens into a long narrative in which her name would have to be frequently repeated, it would be best to use "she" rather than to use her name again and again.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-32, entitled, "Table Manners," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Decor for Bathroom

SEAMS TO ME
By Patricia Scott

Bathrooms can be dead dull and cold looking if they are not decorated with a little imagination. To give huge expanses of tile a look of warmth and color, you must depend on towels, shower curtain, floor mats and shelves with pretty bottles on them. If you have a small bathroom, this is sometimes difficult to do.

Using towels with applied monograms is a terrific way to dress up the bathroom, but having towels applied professionally is quite costly. So if your budget can't quite afford it, then do it yourself. It isn't difficult and the luxurious effect it will give is certainly worth the effort.

If you're not too good at sketching initials (flowers, if you prefer), you can buy pattern transfers of various motifs in any pattern department.

Applique work can be done by hand, but it's much easier and will stand up better after many washings, if a zig-zag machine or zig-zag attachment is used.

1. Cut piece of fabric for design large enough (about 1" wider on all sides) for ease in applying.

2. Place fabric on towel, right side up; place tissue design over this; pin and baste to towel.

3. Straight stitch around design, using matching thread and short stitch.

4. Pull off tissue.

5. Set zig-zag machine or attachment for a narrow, tight and short stitch.

6. Stitch over edge of design, covering straight stitching.

7. Trim away excess fabric, close to the stitching. Small embroidery or cuticle scissors are perfect for doing this.

For a really elegant look, if you have a large bathroom, applique the same design, only larger, on a terry cloth shower curtain to match the towels. Buy enough terry cloth so that finished measurements are the same as standard shower curtain. Measure old curtain and then use as a pattern to cut terry cloth, allowing two and one-half inches for the top hem, three and one-half inches for bottom hem and one and one-half inches for side hems. After applique is on, to hem: turn edges (top, bottom and sides) under, one-half inch. Then turn up hems two inches at top, three inches at bottom and one inch on sides. Add shower curtain rings and hooks.

Luxury and Elegance Predicted for Fall

That America's success symbol is no longer the automobile, but the home is indicated by previews of fashions for fall in the international Home Furnishings Market starting today. A vast over-all picture of heightened luxury and elegance is presented as all major manufacturers and hundreds of others display their latest offerings, the furniture, fabrics, wall and floor coverings and accessories store buyers from all over the country gather to select for public showings in the months to come.

Traditional design for all types of home furnishings is a stand-out trend direction the market reveals, and particularly noted is the great richness of fabrics, super-comfort of seating and top importance for fine decorative accessories. The sofa, always a key home possession, is long and increasingly soft as foam rubber is often wrapped in a fluffy filling, and is covered with a fabric that is intricately woven to show detailed pattern of traditional inspiration. Loose pillow design is shared by chairs, and framings of both benefit from the many newly introduced methods on construction.

Mrs. B. N. N. "My bedroom wallpaper is patterned with rather large white branches and white flowers on a medium blue background. The furniture is light mahogany, the curtains are white and the carpet is gray. What color should the bedspreads be? Would white be too colorless? I have pink spreads now, but they have never looked right. What color do you suggest for a new lamp between the beds and other touches if they should be added to the room?"

A crisply blue and white bedroom is always attractive, and since the wallpaper is striking decoration covering so much of the room, it is best to avoid the addition of a strongly contrasting color. You might, however, break the white of the bedspreads with pillows in blue the shade of the paper and perhaps two shades of soft green, and use one of the greens for an accessory. Silver and white would be pleasing for the lamp.

Mrs. W. K. "We bought a long sofa in a practical cover, which shades stripes from gray through grayed brown to black. Do you think the new coffee table to go in front of it should be black or should I try one with a white marble top and brass legs for contrast? The rug is rose-beige to match the walls, and the wood of the other tables, the TV set and two open-arm chairs in deep bright green is walnut. On one wall we have a pair of Chinese panels with designs in black on beige. The lamps are brass with white shades."

A table with a light marble top, not necessarily white, would be more effective in the room than one with a black top. The base of the marble-topped table might be black or walnut, or brass in not too bright a finish.

Why Do Men Marry? They Want to Live Longer

BY FRANCES BOYLE

New York —(U)— There is no doubt about why most men marry.

They simply want to live longer.

A man doesn't marry as the result of an overwhelming emotion. He marries because of an overwhelming instinct—the instinct of self-preservation.

He likes to think he is doing a girl a favor by putting a wedding ring on her finger.

Hal Boyle wondered aloud last week why women marry, considering what it does to them. Today his wife takes up the question of what happens to husbands after marriage.

Actually he is doing himself a favor. That ring is shaped like a life-saver. And that's what matrimony is to most men—a life-saver.

All statistics show that the best life insurance a man can get to add years to his zest—if not zest to his years—is the right kind of wife.

Adds to Life Span

Married men do last longer than bachelors. They may complain they are working themselves to death, but their bachelor buddies play themselves to death much sooner.

Of course matrimony does do some unforfeitable things to husbands. In time their teeth get fewer, their hair falls out and their stomach looks like a basketball they can't quite catch up with. But it has its compensations, too.

For example:

Before marriage the only exercise a man gets is paying his bills. After marriage he gets twice as much of this kind of exercise.

Before marriage he is so lonely he talks to himself. After marriage he doesn't have to talk at all; he can improve his mind by just listening.

Before marriage he is simply one of the boys. After marriage he is much more of a man—usually from 30 to 40 pounds more.

Before marriage he wastes most of his time trying to lure some unwary girl up to his apartment to look at his etchings. After marriage he has plenty of time to paint his own pictures—if he still needs a hobby.

Before marriage he lives from hand to mouth. After marriage he always knows where his next meal is coming from—whether he likes it or not.

Before marriage his pals are eternally borrowing money from him and never paying it back. After marriage he has someone who will lend him his own money—and never charge him interest.

Before marriage he gets weary of telling his own jokes. After marriage he has someone to share this misery.

Sure of Worries

Before marriage he never knew what worried him. After marriage he no longer has this gnawing doubt. He is sure.

Before marriage he was too shy to speak out at the local hall. After marriage he becomes a star speaker at PTA meetings.

Before marriage he never knew why he was always broke the day after payday. After marriage he can think of a hundred reasons.

Before marriage he didn't know enough to come in out of the rain. After marriage he isn't allowed to go out into the rain—unless he puts on his rubbers and carries an umbrella.

Before marriage he was helpless and hopeless. But after marriage he is only helpless.

Considering all these advantages, it's a wonder why so many single men today still say they don't want to marry. It must be because they listen at bars to the made-up woes of wayward husbands.

The truth is that the younger a man marries, the longer he is likelier to live. Or, as even a grouchy husband admits, "at least it seems longer."

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Your Figure's Grace

One of the distinguishing marks of an ideal figure is its grace. When supple, an inferior figure may appear attractive. But if awkward, the best shape seems ill-begotten.

This is a thought to conjure with, particularly now that summer's "undress" is upon us. So if you could wish to be as lithe and lovely as a body should, do take these measures daily:

1. Standing erect, place right foot forward and a bit to right of body. Then raise both arms overhead. Stretch them back and lean back—as far as possible. 2. Leading with head, swing arms and trunk forward and down toward right foot—make it a real sweep. Try, but do not strain, to touch fingertips to foot.

3. Without pause, rise to erect standing position, letting arms fall at sides. 4. Placing left foot forward, repeat routine, touching fingertips to left foot. 5. Alternating sides, repeating 20 times in all.

Important note: Daily performance results in more than desired agility. It also trims your waist and abdomen. And surprise—it puts more color ever after. Today's hand is the tale of a player who liked a three better than a queen, but nobody sent him to the loonybin because he was absolutely right.

The United States was playing Chile a few weeks ago in the world championship in Italy, and both teams got to three notrump with similar bidding. At both tables West was allowed to hold the first trick with the queen of hearts.

Both declarers won the next trick with the ace of hearts and led the five of spades toward dummy. West played Maas and Miss Sandra Hanover, both of Green Bay, were bridesmaids. Laurie Ann Altenhofen, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

David Dalke was best man for his brother and Jim Scheib and Robert Marvin Schinke ushered.

The VFW hall was the setting for the reception and dance.

low, and dummy's king won the trick.

The Chilean East carelessly played the three of spades on dummy's king. He had to win the next spade with the queen but couldn't strike an effective blow for the defense.

East returned a diamond, but South stepped up with the ace and led another spade to force out the ace. South gritted his teeth, fearing a diamond continuation, but West had no diamond to lead. Declarer made his nine tricks, scoring game.

Of the other table Lew Mathe, noted California expert, held the East cards. When the king of spades was played from dummy, Mathe dropped his queen.

This play would be costly if South's spades were headed by J-10, but this was unlikely since South had not tried a finesse. In any other case Mathe's play would either break even or gain.

As the cards actually lay, West was now sure to win two spade tricks with his ace and 10. He could set up his hearts when he got in the first time and could run the hearts when he took his next spade trick. Down two for the poor Chilean declarer!

Incidentally, both declarers could have made the contract by letting the first spade run to East's queen but it's not clear that this is the best play for the contract.

South Koreans Welcome Ike's Daughter-in-Law

BY K. C. HWANG
 Seoul —(AP)— Barbara Eisenhower was served "kimchi," Korea's most famous — and most pungent — dish today at a luncheon given by Mrs. Huh Chung, South Korea's first lady.
 The president's daughter-in-law did not say afterward how she liked the dish of highly spiced, pickled vegetables.
 The lunch was served in an ancient building of Changduk palace, home of the old Korean ruling dynasty. The 600-year-old palace was renovated in 1905.
 "Thirty million Koreans welcome Mrs. John Eisenhower," proclaimed a huge banner hoisted by some 3,000 Korean schoolgirls who also waved American and Korean flags and cheered the motorcade. The 30 million figure includes North Koreans.
 Little girls in colorful, ribboned Korean costumes handed Mrs. Eisenhower a big bouquet at the entrance to the palace.
 "The gardens are lovely, and so are the Korean costumes," said Mrs. Eisenhower to her hosts.
 After lunch the party watched an ancient Korean folk dance performed by more than 600 high school girls. The girls also gave Mrs. Eisenhower a 2-foot-high Korean doll.
 She attended the national assembly session addressed by President Eisenhower, then visited Seoul Children's Relief hospital where more than 60 orphans are being hospitalized. She spent 15 minutes at the hospital, comforting the children.

 A 7-year-old patient, Kim Chul, presented her three small boxes containing a Korean flag and several Korean toys made by the children.

Foreign Languages Aid Travelers Abroad

By Shirley and Bob Sloane

From time to time we have quietly campaigned against the mountains of misinformation about travel.
 Most of it comes from public relations sources who know little except the client's business and where to address travel editors. An unfortunate amount of this chaff finds its way into print.
 Some of it is fairly harmless, such as the quaint notion that you must load up on soap, aspirin and hairpins because they are not available abroad. These ideas are usually straightened out by travel agents.
 But one story we would like to straighten out: it's that you don't need to know the language of the country.
 It is quite true that most doormen, airport ticket clerks, hotel clerks and waiters speak some English. So do all tour guides. This is just dandy if you plan to speak to no one but clerks, doormen, waiters and guides.
 Regardless of what you may have heard, most railroad personnel, cab drivers, shop clerks, proprietors, non-touristy restaurant people and policemen do not speak English, even in major cities. In small towns even fewer do.

What about people you'd like to meet for their own sakes — business, professional and working people? They're a good reason to learn a foreign language.
 Many of these foreigners do speak English — out of necessity. But how many of us can match the respect they have shown us by learning our tongue?
 You can get by in a foreign country with a combination of English and sign language. As the handy little foreign phrase books put out by the Berlitz Schools of Languages point out:
 "A native of China could get along in Pittsburgh by speaking only Chinese. . . He probably would not starve to death. But would (he) . . . make any friends, have any enjoyable experiences, or take home any memories of (America) that he could not get from picture postcards?"
 The parallel may not be precise, but it makes the point.
 In a world of Communist propaganda about Western imperialists trying to force the rest of the world to live and think their way, you cannot imagine the impression when you throw out a few lines of their language to foreigners who speak English.
 Such words as the French "gentille" and Spanish "simpatico" are then applied to you — the highest of compliments.
 Foreign languages are not taught today by the gruelling rote method we suffered through in high school. The easiest way to learn a language is by speaking it — that's how you learned English — and that's how it's taught in the night school extension courses and private schools where after a few weeks you can carry on a conversation.
 There are also self-teaching books, the best by the Berlitz people, who seem to have practically invented foreign languages.
 They are well worth the investment and learning a language can't be too difficult. Everyone in the world speaks one, even children.
 Shirley and Bob Sloane will be happy to help readers with their travel questions. Address them to the Appleton Post-Crescent. All will be answered as soon as possible but those containing stamped, self-addressed envelopes will be given preference.

Aid Society Plans Purchase

Hortonville — Mrs. Orrie Williams, Mrs. Eva McMurdan and Mrs. Byron Baurain were hostesses for the Baptist Ladies aid. The society will purchase four pew reservation ropes. A potluck dinner and supper for the members and their families will be held July 20 at the Henry Nelson cottage at White Lake.
 R. E. L. Mugg, of Oklahoma City, father of Pastor James Mugg, was guest speaker for the father-son banquet at the Baptist church. Donald Siegrist and son, Donald, gave an instrumental number and Pastor Mugg and George Adam sang several duets.
 Mrs. Lloyd Schultz was hostess for the Victory Bridge club. Mrs. Ray Riedl and Mrs. Walter Lueck won prizes. Mrs. John Steffen will entertain June 30.

Family Diary

I would like to report that, but you'll never plan any thing, ever, that Tommy won't be playing an important game. You'll see."
Conflicting Plans
 We did, almost right away. The day the morning's mail brought an invitation from the Terwilligers inviting us to a cocktail buffet at the Country club a week from Friday. Tommy also announced the date he was to play his first game. A week from Friday.
 I broke the news to John. "I don't know what we ought to do," I said. "I know this game is important to Tommy and that we ought to be there to spur him on, but I want terribly to go to the Terwilligers. We haven't been any place nice for ages and every one we know will be there."
 "I'd like to go, too," John said, "but in this case, it seems to me that Tommy comes first."
 I remonstrated. "Bruce will take him if we don't. And it's not as if Tommy is any good. Out there in left field he'll probably never touch the ball."
 "That's right," John said. "But all the more reason he should have his dad in the stands if he needs bucking up. And who knows? He may pull a Willie Mays and win the game!"
 Friday afternoon turned hot and muggy, and sitting there in the bleachers, the sun in our eyes, it was almost impossible to distinguish Tommy, far out in left field, from a nearby stump. I said as much to John.
 "But I think he sees us. From the point of view of morale, that's the important thing."
 "I don't think he sees us,"

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER PATTERN

You'll want at least two—one for summer, another for winter—of this classic style that knows no season, and can be made up in a few hours. Designed by Fontana, it is cut with a topstitched front panel, shaped to give width across the top, minimize waistlines, camouflage hips. The panel has loose edges and tiny pleats that open out at the hem. Make it now in linen, shantung, novelty cottons; for fall sheer wool, faille, or brocade. From these size charts select the one size best for you. Our measurements are comparable to ready-to-wear sizes.

Game Throws Bat In Social Activities

By Jeannette Griffith

Sally said tersely. "I don't and we untensed ourselves when he struck out and the side retired.
 During the next intermission a large black cloud appeared and blotted out the sun. A few fat raindrops fell. Enough to dampen us, but not to stop the game.
 John was still cheery as the score piled up—for the opposing team. "Considering everything," he said, "I'm even more glad we came. Aren't you?"
 It was a large question and it took a minute or two to consider. I could see myself in my new white linen dress and my new red shoes at the Terwilligers' party. I could also see Tommy, far out in left field, happily prancing about and unaware of our existence.
 "Well," John said, pressing for a favorable response, as men usually do when on thin ground. "Aren't you?"
 I decided to be completely honest. I said, "No!"

College Teacher's Speech Warns Of Education's Demands for Funds

World War II Babies Bring Enrollment Boom To State Schools, Impetus for Tax Reform

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The quiet but firm voice of the state college history professor spoke for more than 800 state college teachers at the session of the board of regents of state colleges.

The association of state college faculties, said William Cochran of Eau Claire State, association president, intends to press more vigorously for "improved standards" in the state system of higher education, including: Substantially higher pay scales, embracing average salary increases of 33 per cent for the next two years, over the 12 per cent authorized during the last two years.

Research Opportunities More leave and research opportunities for the state college teachers heretofore almost exclusively concerned with direct instructional duties.

A reduction of the student load of the average teacher, by bringing down the pupil-teacher ratio from above 20 to 15 or below.

Regents listened quietly and commented little. Board Chairman W. D. McIntyre of Eau Claire, a veteran of a decade and a half of service in the state college system, remarked that the board is "sympathetic" to the goals of the teachers. But he conspicuously failed to promise their achievement.

Warns of Crisis

Joined with the greatly increasing enrollments at the state colleges and rapidly increasing building space requirements, and echoing identical and perhaps even more forceful pleas from the faculty and regents of the University of Wisconsin, the incident graphically warned of the impending crisis in the financing of higher educational services in the state.

President Conrad A. Elvehjem of the University has couched his appeals in even stronger language, with the full backing of his board of regents which like the state college board contains both Republicans and Democrats as members.

Elvehjem's recent address to the alumni was virtually an appeal for political action support of the University's aspirations.

Warned of Explosion

For more than a decade the officers of the state college and university system have been warning about the explosion of enrollments that would come in the 1960's as a result of the spurt in the birth rate coinciding with World War II.

Their forecasts are being borne out. The nine state colleges, in various sections of the state, expect to have 16,000 enrolled for the fall term and the tendency to grow shows no sign of slowing. The system has been adding students at the equivalent of one medium sized college a year for half a dozen years.

The University of Wisconsin counted more than 27,000 students in its official families during the last year on the Madison campus and the

Airline Fares to Be Boosted July 1

Washington — Domestic airline fares will go up 2 1/2 per cent, plus a $1 surcharge for each 1-way ticket, starting July 1.

The civil aeronautics board, in granting the increases Friday, said they should give airlines about $84 million a year in additional revenue.

The 12 trunk airlines had asked for increases of 5 1/2 to 12 per cent.

The $1 per ticket surcharge and present surcharges for jet flights, are expected to expire next year, the CAB said. The 2 1/2 per cent increase, however, will remain in effect indefinitely.

The board said it granted the increases on the basis of standards announced April 29. These include an earnings standard of 10 1/2 per cent return on investment which the CAB said the industry should be allowed over an extended period.

The 12 airlines receiving the fare increases are American, Braniff, Capital, Continental, Delta, Eastern, National, Northeast, Northwest, Trans World, United and Western.

several branches, and its officers are now predicting, without qualification, a total of 50,000 at the end of the decade.

Impetus for Reform

The University's 3,250 faculty members now represent a community larger than the population of dozens of the smaller cities of the state, and they are pressing for higher pay and perquisites with all of the resolution shown by the state college faculties.

Out of such continuing pressure upon the state treasury during the years immediately ahead will come the political impetus for basic state tax revision. Both political parties have shied from this for years in spite of periodical forays by official study commissions in the last decade and a half.

As one high education officer told the legislative joint finance committee a year ago when legislators flinched at higher education money requests: "We haven't seen anything yet."

Yankees Run Winning Streak Over Chisox To Seven With Sweep

Coates Cops His Eighth in Row; Wilhelm, Pappas Pitch Shutouts Against Detroit

By The Associated Press

Nobody is predicting a New York pennant this early in the race, but even the most rabid anti-Yankee rooters must admit that Casey Stengel is doing a "treemendous" job of managing this year, to use the manager's favorite word.

While younger and more agile field leaders are getting the axe, the 70-year-old reformed dentist is perhaps doing his best job of masterminding in his 13 years at the Yankee helm. And, don't forget, he's won nine New York flags.

Today he has his team on top of the heap, 3 percentage points above Baltimore, after leading the Yankees to 7-5 and 5-3 victories over the Chicago White Sox Sunday. The twin triumph gave the Yankees a run of seven straight over the defending champions, and 11 victories in 12 games since Stengel left a sick bed to resume charge.

Two Victories
The Yankees needed those two victories to stay in front because Baltimore got shutout pitching from Hoyt Wilhelm and Milt Pappas to defeat Detroit twice, 2-0 and 1-0. Boston's last-place Red Sox stunned Cleveland with a 7-1 and 3-2 sweep of their doubleheader and Washington made it three straight over Kansas City, 6-5.

Jim Coates, whose mere presence on the mound seems to inspire the Yankee hitters, turned in his eighth victory without a defeat as his mates shelled Bob Shaw with four runs in the fifth and homered reliever Dick Donovan with three more in the sixth of the opener. The lean righthander had a 2-year winning streak of 12 games.

Johnny James, a relief pitcher, was credited with the second victory. Mickey Man-

McMahon's Relief Saves Willey's Win

Milwaukee — It's getting so a Milwaukee Braves fan needs nerves of steel. Just about every game is tension-packed.

The Braves went down to the wire twice more Sunday in a doubleheader split with the St. Louis Cardinals before a crowd of 31,825 at County stadium. Milwaukee was edged, 4-3, in the opener, then won the second game 3-2.

Still plagued by late-inning shakes, the Braves lost the opener on a 2-run uprising against Warren Spahn in the eighth inning, but managed to hold on for a victory in the nightcap.

Despite the split, third-place Milwaukee picked up a half game in the National league race as front-running Pittsburgh and runner-up San Francisco both lost. The Braves trail the Pirates by 4½ games and the Giants by just a half game.

Fourth Loss
Spahn, a 39-year-old warhorse, was tagged for his fourth loss while seeking his fifth triumph. He held a 2-0 lead after five innings, but surrendered single tallies in the sixth and seventh and a pair which decided the issue in the eighth.

Willey hurled brilliantly, allowing just two hits, until running up against the late-inning jinx with one out in the ninth. He finally had to give way after three hits loaded the bases and Don McMahon came on to preserve Carr's fourth victory against three losses.

In the opener, the Braves scored twice with two out in the fifth on successive singles by Spahn, Billy Bruton, Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews. The Cards nipped Spahn for just two hits in the sixth, but scored as the Braves failed to make a double play on infield grounders. A single and a double followed by an infield out was good for another run in the seventh.

St. Louis nailed down the verdict in the next inning with two runs on a walk, a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly. Joe Adcock's seventh homer with the bases empty was the best the Braves could do in the ninth.

Willey appeared the entire story of the nightcap as he set-

New York — Having proven there was more might than myth to his "thunder and lightning" right, heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson is favored to beat Floyd Patterson again in their return, 15-round title fight at the Polo grounds tonight.

A year ago, the handsome, dimpled Swede was a 5-1 underdog, scoffed at for his unique, carefree training methods, and for his absolute faith in his big right-hand wallop.

Crushing Defeat
This time Patterson, 25, the ev-champion, is the question mark. Can he wipe out the memory of his crushing, 7-knockdown, third-round knockout of a year ago? Will he be able to get in close for his flashing combinations without being stabbed by stinging jabs or destroyed again by a crushing right? Can he take a punch and keep going?

The betting odds are against him. Johansson, a supremely confident champion, has been made the 7½-5 favorite. The odds may go even higher before they step into the ring at 9:30 p. m., CDT.

Investigations, legal action, and promotional squabbles took the play away from the fighters for most of the time since their first fight last June 26. But in recent weeks the fight has stirred up world-wide interest.

The new promotional firm of Feature Sports, Inc., anticipates a crowd of 35,000 and a gross gate of $800,000 on prices ranging from $5 general admissions to the $100 ring-side seats. Estimates of the advance sale range from $500,000 to $625,000.

Kansas Wins NCAA Track Title Again
Thomas, Tidwell, Alley All Equal Or Set Marks

Berkeley, Calif. — America's collegiate track and field coaches had their buttons popping today after one of the greatest NCAA championship meets ever held.

Ten meet records were shattered Saturday as Kansas' powerful Jayhawks thundered to their second straight NCAA title at the University of California's Edwards stadium.

The top six Americans in each event qualified for the Olympic team trials at Stanford, July 1-2.

Double Winner
The only double winner was Kansas' Charlie Tidwell, a great sprinter who captured the 200-meter dash in :20.8 and retained his 100-meter crown with a meet record-equaling :10.2.

John Thomas of Boston university eased over the bat at 7 feet for a new meet record in the high jump, the twenty-eighth time he has gone seven feet this year.

The Jayhawks' Bill Alley defended his 1956 javelin title with another meet record toss — 268-9.

Other NCAA meet records set were:

Shot put—Dallas Long, USC, 61-9.
1500 meter run—Dyrol Burleson, Oregon, 3:44.2.
Hammer throw—John Lawlor, Boston university, 209-2.
800 meters—George Kerr, Illinois, 1:46.4.
30,000 meter steeplechase—Charles Clark, San Jose State, 9:02.1.
Hop, step and jump—Luther Hayes, USC, 50-11.1.
5000 meter run—Al Lawrence, Houston, 14:19.8.
400 meter dash (around two turns)—Ted Woods, Colorado, :43.7.

Road Swing To Prove Test For Sheehan

San Francisco — (U) — The San Francisco Giants leave today on a 3-week swing around the National league which should do much to determine how long easy-going Tom Sheehan stays on as manager.

The robust 66-year-old Irishman got the job Saturday when Giant owner Horace Stoneham abruptly fired Bill Rigney.

Stoneham said Sheehan, his chief scout, could keep the job as long as the club responds.

They responded on hiring day, but lost Sunday in 11 innings, 2-1, to Philadelphia. They remain four games back of league leading Pittsburgh.

(Former St. Louis Manager Eddie Stanky suddenly left the press box Sunday to fly to the west coast giving rise to speculation that he was to consult with Stoneham about the managerial job.)

Gophers, Trojans Meet Tonight for NCAA Baseball Crown

Omaha — (U) — Minnesota and Southern California meet tonight for the NCAA Baseball championship.

The college world series, plagued by rain-outs since the opening game a week ago last Friday, went into another day as Southern Cal handed Minnesota its first tourney defeat Sunday night, 4-3, in 11 innings.

Both clubs now are 3-1. Southern Cal's only loss was 12-11 to Minnesota in 10 innings Friday night.

California Wins IRA Regatta; Badgers 11th

Syracuse, N. Y. — (U) — It was a far cry from last year's triumphant finish for Wisconsin.

California caught Washington in the last half mile and won the fifty-eighth annual event. Navy also edged Washington, which led almost throughout, for second place.

'Awful, Just Awful'

1-for-8 Days Sends Aaron's Batting Mark Falling to .279

BY DAVE O'HARA

Milwaukee — (U) — Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Carl Willey, a couple of front-line pitchers, still are trying to shake a late-inning hex, but the Braves have a bigger problem. Hammerin' Hank Aaron isn't hitting.

Spahn and Willey encountered their usual troubles again Sunday and the Braves had to settle for a doubleheader split with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Milwaukee dropped the opener, 4-3, but captured the nightcap 3-2 as reliever Don McMahon choked off a ninth-inning St. Louis rally.

Aaron, who topped the majors with a .355 batting average last year, went hitless in seven straight times at bat, getting the ball out of the infield only once, before connecting on a run — producing single.

The 1-for-8 performance sent his average down to .279, or 136 points below his mark for 53 games last season. In 1959, he had 90 hits at this stage. Today he has only 57.

"Today was awful, just awful," Aaron said. "These are the days I like to forget. I've been having a rough time, but I'll get going soon. I've been in slumps before and it just takes a little time to snap out of one."

Extra Session

Milwaukee Manager Charlie Dressen didn't single out any individual for lack of hitting. Instead, he ordered an extra session of batting practice for Aaron and a few others before tonight's game with Los Angeles.

"We got four well-pitched games against St. Louis and had to fight to win three of them," Dressen said. "We're just not hitting the way they expect."

Jimmy Bryan Killed in Auto Crash

Hurtubise Wins 100-Mile National Championship Race

Langhorne, Pa. — Rugged, cigar-smoking Jimmy Bryan, veteran auto racer who won 19 championships including the Indianapolis 500 in 1958, was killed Sunday in the 100-mile national championship big car race at Langhorne speedway.

The 33-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., native who began racing in 1948 was attempting to pass Don Branson, of Champaign, Ill., for the lead on the first lap when his car suddenly skidded sideways and rolled over several times. There was no fire.

Bryan was pulled quickly from his car and rushed to the Lower Bucks County hospital where he was dead on arrival. Attendants said he died of chest and internal injuries.

The 17-car race restarted after the fatal accident. It was won by Jim Hurtubise of Lennox, Calif., who set a national record of 100.786 m.p.h. over the 1-mile dirt track. His time was 59:31.92.

Gives Opinion
Eddie Sachs, of Center Valley, Pa., who viewed the tragedy from his position eight cars behind, blamed the accident on Bryan's "overconfidence in himself and his eagerness to return to the profession that he was so wonderful in."

"They had just dropped the green flag and the cars went into the turn. Bryan took the outside and the dust and dirt got heavy."

"And after 24 years of inactivity, he didn't like what was happening."

"He tried to drive from the outside to the inside too quickly and that is what put the car out of control. He made such a sharp turn that the car flipped to the inside of the track."

"I was heartsick. He was loved and revered by every man in the racing business."

The Soos finished the job in the 5th, 3-walk, 3-error second inning.

Building Would Get Start Soon

Madison — Construction of a civic auditorium designed by the late Frank Lloyd Wright would begin next year under a program submitted to the city board of estimates by Mayor Ivan Nestingen.

Construction of the $51 million auditorium has been blocked since 1954 in the legislature and the courts.

The city voted $4 million for the project six years ago and designated the famed architect as the designer. The additional amount will come from parking facilities.

The site is on Lake Monona, two blocks southeast of the capitol.

Adcock lined his eighth homer into the bleachers in left center in the second and Milwaukee added a run in the seventh on a walk, a single by West Covington and a sacrifice fly and another in the eighth on a double by Bruton and a single by Hank Aaron.

Willey retired the first batter in the eighth, but then surrendered three straight singles, filling the bases. McMahon was summoned from the bullpen and got the next man on a soft fly. Don then walked in a run but ended the threat by forcing the next batter to ground out.

The Braves meet the Los Angeles Dodgers tonight in a make-up game of postponement. Bob Buhl, with a 6-3 record, is down to face the Dodgers' Don Drysdale (4-8).

It will be Ladies' night, the first since the Braves moved to Milwaukee in 1953.

World Heavyweight Champion Ingemar Johansson, accompanied by fiancée Birgit Lundgren, poses for a photographer at a New York television studio Sunday night where he appeared on a network program. Johansson defends his title against Floyd Patterson tonight.

Michigan State's Jack Lamers is back home to work at Kimberly-Clark this summer, but it won't be a complete basketball sabbatical for the former Kimberly

High standout. He'll keep in court trim with some games around the Green Bay area with fellows like Lance Olson, Tom Rand, Dick Hall and Wayne Monson. Lamers played as a regular guard for the Spartan freshman team that won 10 straight games. As many as four of the boys, including Lamers and Manitowoc's Hall, could break into the MSU varsity starting lineup as soph next season. The Spartan quint will not appear in the UW fieldhouse in 1960-61, so next season's only renewal of the friendly Lamers-Jack Ullwelling rivalry will come at East Lansing.

Lamers
Olson, former "Big Cat" at Green Bay West, who has closed out a fine career at MSU, is not sure where he will play his next basketball. He was set to play for Peoria of the National Industrial league, but that club has since dropped out.

Nick Maras, Burlington Bees pitcher, is a cousin of Roger Maris, the American league's 1960 home run sensation. The two sides of the family spell the surname differently.

Another big-time school following Wisconsin's lead in abandoning boxing is Washington State. The administration claims that the move has nothing to do with the injury factor but rather is prompted by scheduling difficulties. Few schools within a reasonable distance of the Cougar campus still carry the sport.

Lee Sullivan probably won't umpire any more Three-I league games for the rest of the season. His physician advised him to take a lengthy rest because of high blood pressure.

Because of good success with Saturday afternoon games in 1959-60, the Wisconsin basketball team has scheduled five more for 1960-61. Last season, field-house matinees drew an average of about 6,500 fans.

To Your Good Health
Child's High Fever Calls For Immediate Attention

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: In a fund-raising campaign for schools for retarded children, I was given some literature that claimed 'high fever in childhood disease' was one cause of retardation. As a young mother, I would like to know more about this. Does it mean that a child having any disease, such as measles, chickenpox, tonsillitis, could become retarded?"

"Also are children who are slow to talk, but normal or above average in understanding words, directions, etc., and quick to 'catch on' to just about everything, a cause for worry?—Mrs. J. D."

Illness in childhood can be the cause of mental retardation, but perhaps the way of saying it is a little too brief to give an adequate idea of where the danger lies.

In fact, I think we could say that high fever, all by itself, does not cause mental deficiency at all.

Can be Dangerous
However, some of the so-called children's diseases like measles and mumps—especially measles—can occasionally cause inflammation of the brain. Technically, this is encephalitis, of course, and not just the original disease—measles or whatever.

If this brain infection is severe (and it usually is accompanied by high fever) it is possible for it to do enough damage to leave impairment of some function of the brain.

On the other hand, there is no reason for mothers to be unduly alarmed if fever accompanies one of the ordinary diseases, sore throats, tonsillitis, ear infections, and so on. I don't mean, naturally, that mothers should ignore these diseases, or regard them lightly. Such infections should be cleared up as rapidly as possible. Clearing them up without delay is the most effective way we have of insuring that they don't lead to other complications.

As to the question of the child who is slow to talk, within reasonable limits, but is quick-witted in general, I see no reason for being worried. Some are "late bloomers," so to speak.

After all, children vary quite widely in the rate at which they develop motor skills, that is, the skills involving some physical movement. Some walk sooner than others, some are quicker about learning to use their hands. So there's no reason to be disturbed by moderate variations.

Some children start using a few words very early and keep adding to their vocabularies. There are other youngsters who seem to learn to use only a bare minimum of baby words—and then abruptly start talking at a great clip, almost overnight.

Apparently they have been learning the words, and what they mean, but just haven't decided, until then, to start using them. Don't ask me, because I don't know. But I've observed it.

If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to me in care of this newspaper requesting a copy of my booklet, "The damage to leave impairment Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin, to cover hand-

Canada Cup Matches Next For Palmer

Arnie Midway Toward First Pro Grand-Slam

BY DON WEISS

Denver — What's next to conquer for Arnold Palmer, 29, the bronzed golf professional from Ligonier, Pa., who seems to make the incredible seem routine?

After his stunning, last gasp victory in the National open championship Saturday, it's two down and two to go in what Arnie hopes—and probably firmly believes—will be the first grand slam in pro history.

Palmer is winging his way to Ireland today with Sam Snead to represent the United States in the Canada cup matches against pros from some 30 countries this week-end.

Back to Akron
Once that's out of the way, it's on to St. Andrews in Scotland for the 100th anniversary British open July 4-8, and after that, back to Akron, Ohio, for the Professional Golfers association championship July 21-24.

Who's to say this handsome young fellow, who already has proved himself the best golfer in the Masters and the Open, will stop short of all four major championships in one year?

Certainly not Arnie, who is so sure of himself that he claims he can make a birdie any time he really needs it.

The power-hitting, sure-putting son of a club pro won the first leg of the big four of professional golf with a final birdie to swipe the Masters championship from Ken Venturi by one stroke in April.

Here, at the 7,004-yard, par 35-36-71 Cherry Hills course Saturday, he rammed in six birdies on the first seven holes of the final round, broke the open last-round record of 65 and came from seven strokes

Here, at the 7,004-yard, par 35-36-71 Cherry Hills course Saturday, he rammed in six birdies on the first seven holes of the final round, broke the open last-round record of 65 and came from seven strokes off the pace to win leg No. 2 with a 72-hole total of 280.

At the end of the 72 holes, Palmer was two strokes to the good of potential great Jackie Nicklaus, who set an Open low-scoring record for amateurs with 282. Mike Souchak, who had blistered Cherry Hills to a record 36-hole total of 135 in the first two rounds, was back at 283 with five others (Jack Fleck, Dow Finsterwald, Ted Kroll, Julius Boros and "Dutch" Harrison) after collapsing to 73-75 on the 36-hole windup.

At 284 was Ben Hogan, who was even with Palmer with two holes to go but hit into water on both the 71st and 72nd holes and splashed out of contention. Until then, it looked like an unprecedented fifth Open championship for Hogan, nearing his 48th birthday.

Snead, who already has reached 48, wound up unsuccessful in his 20th search for his first Open title. He was well back at 289.

For Palmer, the record $14,400 first prize ballooned his earnings for golf this season to $68,603.

Start Inquiry On Arena at Green Bay

John Doe Hearing To Establish if Crimes Committed

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Dist. Atty.

Alexander Grant announced today that a public John Doe hearing on the operation of

Veterans Memorial Arena will open Wednesday before Municipal Judge Donald Gleason.

Grant submitted a petition for a John Doe hearing to Judge Gleason today after Elmer Madison, a Green Bay

special investigator hired by

Grant June 2, submitted a 22-

torney last Friday. Judge

Gleason signed an order for the hearing and specified that its sessions will be public.

At a news conference, Grant said the inquiry would examine seven or eight phases of arena operations, which might involve criminal responsibility of from one to five persons.

Grant did not name the persons, but he said when questioned that not all of them were arena employees, and that none of them were county board members.

Points in Question

To be investigated are:

1. The possibility that rent payments were not turned in.

2. Matters concerned with a contract for an Oct. 31 Dick

Liebert organ concert.

3. The possibility of collusion in staging arena wrestling shows.

4. The lack of any reported revenues from a 3-day amate-teur ice show last August, which concluded a summer school for figure skaters.

5. The possibility of false pay vouchers submitted to the county board.

6. The activities of a boys' hockey league which used the arena.

7. The possibility that county-owned materials were converted to private use.

Determine Grounds

In addition to these points,

Grant said there is a possibility the inquiry might go into areas of criminal responsibility concerned with concession

In response to a question,

Grant made it clear that any resignations from the arena

staff would make no difference on starting or continuing the hearing. Grant was asked the question because of reports that some members of the county board arena committee and other board members were trying to make a deal with Jack Braley, arena manager, to resign in return for trying to get the hearing halted.

Grant bristled at the suggestion.

"No sir. I want to make one thing absolutely clear. I am charged with going into any criminal responsibility. My direct responsibility is not to the county board but, to the statutes, to the attorney general and the public,"

Grant said.

Braley said this morning he had no plans to resign.

Water Department Sets Future Needs

Divided Into 5, 10-Year
Plans Based on Survey

More than $250,000 worth of new mains and a $135,000 standpipe are planned by Appleton's water department in the next five years.

These immediate goals and other long range projects costing $857,900 are listed in a 5- and 10-year program compiled by the water commission at the request of the board of public works.

Already purchased for future use are sites for storage tanks on the city's far north-west and southeast sides, costing a total of $9,970.

City Charged
(Whether the city gets to keep the northwest site re-sites to be seen. Mrs. Minnie Pingel has charged it was purchased from her, by the city's agent under false pretenses, and is demanding the city sell it back to her. She says she was given to understand the two lots were bought for residential purposes, not a water tower. City Atty. Don the Jury is to rule on whether the lots must be returned.

10-year Plans
Planned for construction in the next 10 years are the southeast side storage tank, costing an estimated $150,000, and another $807,900 worth of range plans are based on a survey of the city's water distribution system by Alvord, Burdick and Howson, Chicago, which has been re-engaged to make a survey of need, additions and improvements at the plant.

To be installed in the next five years are 8-inch mains on John street to replace the present river crossing, River street to replace the present main from the ravine to Kernan street, Franklin street from Lawe to Meade streets, North street from Green Bay to Mary streets, Wood street from Eldorado street north two blocks, Locust street from Summer street to College avenue.

Also, 12-inch mains on Ballard road from Wisconsin avenue northerly an unstated distance; Newberry street from Telulah avenue to Schaefer street, Walnut street from Fifth to Fourth streets, Fourth street from Walnut to Mason streets, Summer street from Bennett to Oneida streets and Locust street from Summer street to College avenue.

Based on present prices it is estimated these mains would cost $257,000.

Twelve-inch mains are planned for Newberry street from Joseph to Schaefer streets, along the north city limits from Mason street to Ballard road, Viola street from Summer street to city limits, Summer street to city limits, Sum-

You may thank your lucky stars one day...
you took out enough life insurance now!

The proper amount will give your family needed security... help you retire comfortably. Your New York Life Agent can show you how!

Today—when your financial picture looks bright and retirement seems far away—this is the very best time to fully insure for the future. Consider the cost. Because premiums are based on age, life insurance costs more each year you delay. As for the need—every young family should have ample financial security. At the stroke of a pen, life insurance can provide it. Your policy can also begin building emergency funds, assure your retirement income later. And only life insurance can do all this.

Be sure you have enough! The right amount depends upon your family, your plans—not on how much insurance "the Joneses" have or don't have. Your New York Life Agent can help figure your needs. Let him also tell you about New York Life's popular Whole Life Policy. It offers a man of thirty $10,000 of permanent insurance for only about 57 cents a day! Call your New York Life Agent soon, or mail the coupon at the right for more information. No obligation, of course!
